What makes us Battlefield

We chose "What Makes Us Battlefield" as our theme for the 2010-2011 yearbook because we are determined to show and embrace the extraordinary and diverse qualities of one another within each class. When you think of high school, you think of separate social cliques, unnecessary drama, tons of homework and really early mornings. While that may be true, as these 180 days of high school come to an end we realize success is a choice and it is our choice. We look back on the effort, time, and hard work we have put into this school year and what truly makes us Battlefield. What separates the student body throughout Battlefield from other schools is the diverse and unique characteristics each class holds within the school.

Not only do we work together, but we are versatile, musical, spirited, patriotic, proud and inseparable. We are one. This is what makes us… Battlefield.

What makes us...

Spirited

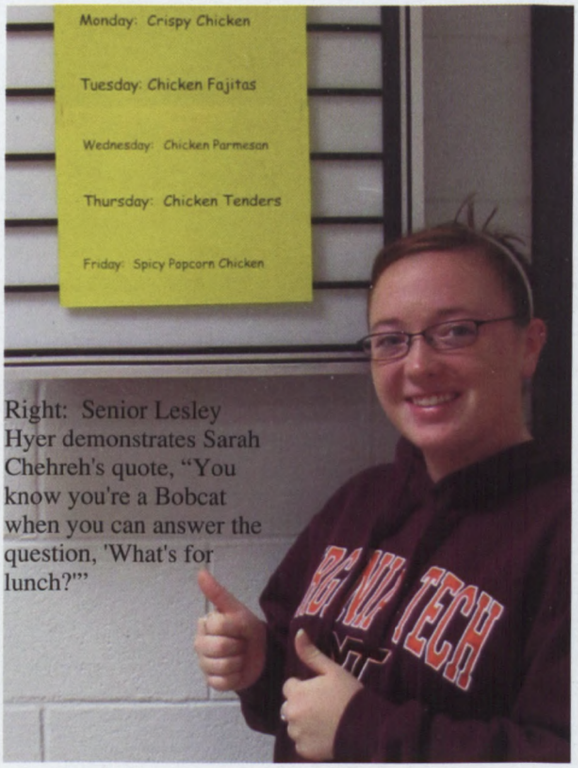

Student Life

What makes us Battlefield is the pride and spirit that we have for our school and the people in it. Throughout Spirit Week, homecoming festivities and other school events the unique character of our school shines through. Togas, "The Den", "Can I get a 'Woot Woot?!'", and DECA's Annual "Pink Out" are just some words and phrases that encapsulate the variety of traditions that make Battlefield stand out.

Student life always welcomes the opportunity for the classes of BHS to show their pride, spirit, individual creativity and amazing accomplishments – both inside and outside the walls of our school. This year students, teachers, and faculty worked hard to make our school widely recognized locally and nationally for its academics, athletics and visual and performing arts. Each person who walks through the halls of our school is unique, intelligent, and gifted in their own way. As the high school with the largest population in Virginia, we make up a melting pot of diverse, well-rounded students, who know what it means to be a Bobcat.

Right: Senior Lesley Hyer demonstrates Sarah Chehreh's quote, "You know you're a Bobcat when you can answer the question, 'What's for lunch?'"

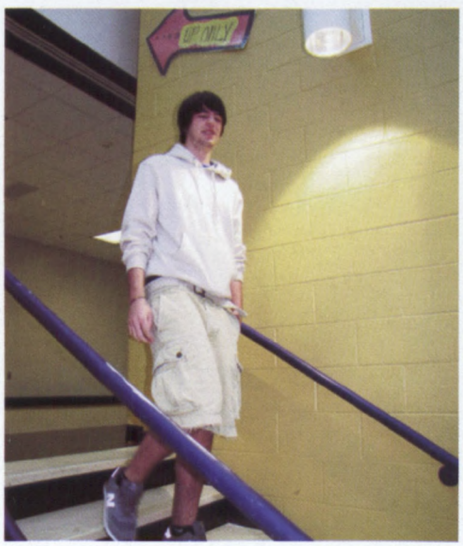

Left: Freshman Arlette Acosta admits, "You know you're a Bobcat when all you have in your closet is purple!"

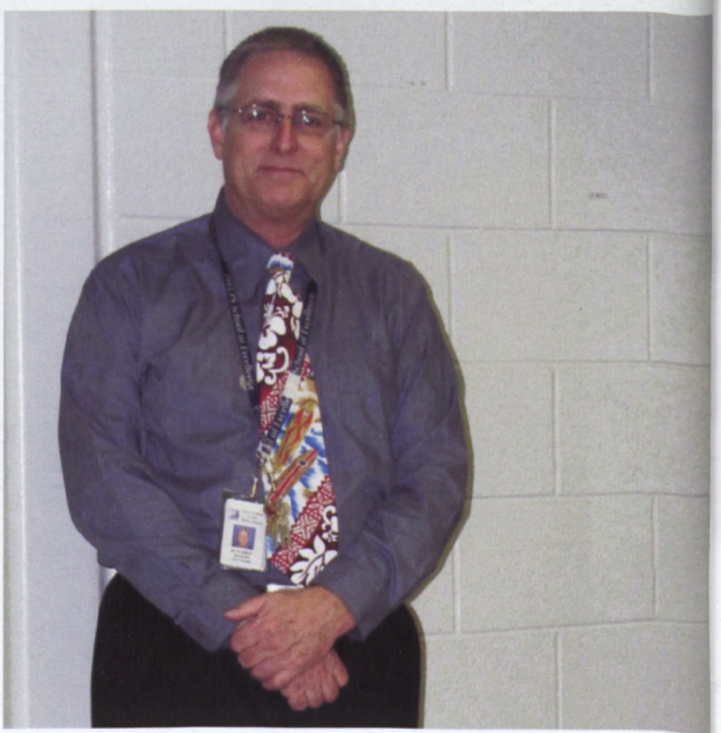

Above: Sophomore Chaz Burton, "You know you're a Bobcat when you wake up to overly energetic teachers! Mrs. Jen Smith can't start her day without at least one cup of coffee!

To the left: Emily Charbo demonstrates "You know you're a Bobcat when you have to race to your car after school to beat the buses!"

Left: Senior Charles Drey says, "You know you're a Bobcat when you can't go down the main stairs."

Right: Who needs a tardy bell when you have Mr. Florer to warn you?!

You know you're a BOBCAT when...

Black and purple, outstanding academics, highly competitive sports teams - everyone outside of the walls of Battlefield High School knows these facts, but what does it truly mean to be a Bobcat? Only the faculty and students know this for sure, so we figured we'd ask them - how do you know when you're really a Bobcat?

Every student knows there is NO excuse for being tardy on any given morning. Thanks to English teacher and Debate coach, Mr. Florer, his bellowing of "ONE MINUTE!" can be heard in every corner of the building warning students of the time remaining to get to their class.

And let's not forget our "Flashback Fridays", courtesy of Spanish teacher, Mrs. Byers. Can I get a "Woot Woot?!" Is there really any better way to kick off the beginning of the weekend?!

Variety is the spice of life, even if that variety refers to the different chicken entrees served each day at lunch. spicy popcorn chicken, chicken fajitas, chicken sandwiches - the possibilities are endless!

Learn to plan activities outside of school at least twenty minutes after the dismissal bell - you'll be stuck in traffic (both in the hallways and in the parking lot) long enough, so get comfortable!

2. Freshmen get stuffed into the lockers (or thrown in the trash) every Friday.

Above: Garrett Butler and Michael Ventura show just how close they actually are. "We met because our parents were neighbors before we were born. We're five days apart" says Garrett. Michael added in "We've known each other since we were 18 months old."

Left: Samantha Smith and Cassandra Bailey do pretty much everything together. With Sam being the President of Drama Club and Cassy being the Stage Manager, they are never apart. In fact, they are so close that Cassy even teased Sam on her birthday last year making fliers saying "Sam Kills Kittens." It is now a big joke of the drama club.

Above/Right: Jodeci Milhouse and Kendall Williams hold hands to show the bond they will always have. "We met when we were three on the plane to Germany, she's awesome." says Kendall. Jodeci added in "She's my attitude, I mellow her out."

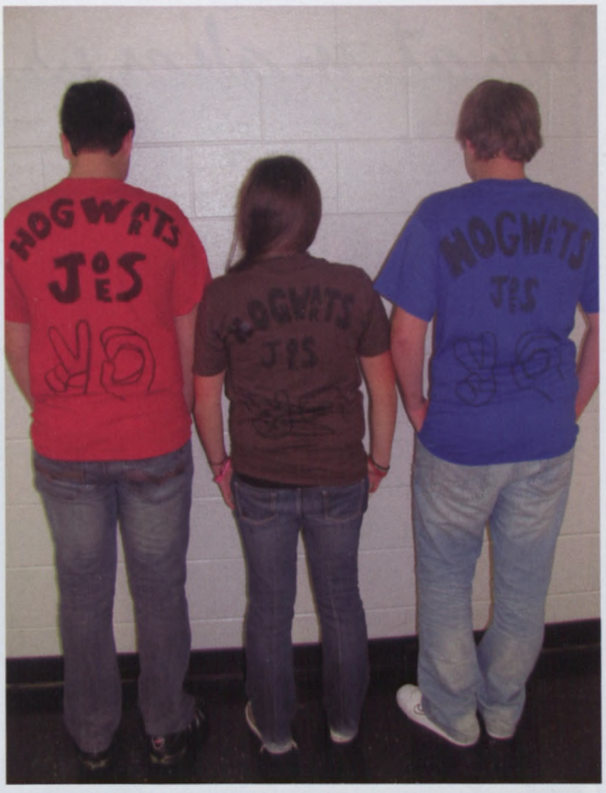

Below: Samantha Perez,Kira LeCaptain. Meghan LeCaptain and Erica Perez have been best friends for 8 years. They call themselves "The Fantastic Four." They were not always friends though, says Meghan about Erica, "I hated her. I even made a journal about how much I hated her."Of course, now they all love each other and are "inseparable".

What makes us... ~~inseparable~~

Left: Tatiana Norman and Brittany Wahoviak show their friendship with their MySpace sign. "Tatiana added me randomly on MySpace when she was new because she moved from Nebraska" says Brittany Wahoviak.

Above:Although Brittany Barloon and Megan Sigleer only met last year in English, they hit it off rather quickly. "We became best friends because we spent a lot of time together. Now, Taylor Lautner can't even come between us" says Brittany Barloon.

Left: Charles Carnahan (CJ) and Victoria Carpenter have a very interesting relationship. CJ says "My first impression of her was that she scared me, she looked angry." He, of course, got past that and they are now "Inseparable."

When you look around Battlefield, you see numerous groups of friends standing around before going to class. What you don't notice within those groups are the two or three people who have known each other for years. "Joined at the hip", it's like they're inseparable!

Jodeci Milhouse says, "Although Kendall Williams and I have known each other for fourteen years, it's not just about how long you have known someone, it's also having that undeniable understanding of one another and knowing that no matter what, your best friend will always be there. She [Kendall] happens to do both."

They are that one person you can talk to about anything, someone you trust and receive advice from. Someone you share silly nicknames with. They are that one person you laugh with until your stomach starts to hurt, the one person you have a million inside jokes with, the one person you hate to leave for camp (even though, when you come back, things remain the same).

They are that one person who stays by your side when the rest of the world decides to leave. They are your best friend - and that's what makes you inseparable.

Right: En garde! When she's not devoting her time to Drama, Senior Cassy Bailey is a hardcore, competitive fencer!

Just when you think you know someone, they go and surprise you with a talent or hobby that you'd never expect!

Look to your right - what do you think you know about the person sitting next to you? Did you know she's a competitive fencer? What about that guy sitting across the room - did you know he's an aspiring chef?

Out of, close to, three-thousand students at Battlefield, it's hard to stand out of the crowd. Well, we wanted to change that - be prepared to be amazed at the daring, the sensational and the just plain surprising facts you may have never known about the people you thought you already knew!

What makes us...Musical

Above: "Face Control, a band formed by Seniors J.T. Brosnahan, Andrew Boyd, Aury Holtslag and sophomore Brian Eybers, show their passion and talent for music while performing for their local community.

As a musician hits each note - whether it be through an instrument or their voice - an extraordinary sound comes out. Each note then comes together and is the starting point for a song. As crescendos, decrescendos, and time signatures are added in, the musicians start to make the song their own, and it starts to become something that is truly out of this world. Music is a key element in the lives of Battlefield students. It is played throughout the day in their lives; in the car on the way to school, on the way home from school, and in the mornings for music Mondays and flashback Fridays.

For some Battlefield students, music is an even bigger part of their lives. It is a frequently practiced hobby or even a perspective job choice. The musicians of Battlefield make it a goal to keep accomplishing their dreams and goals for the future. "Face Control", a band that was formed by Brian Eybers. Andrew Boyd, J.T. Brosnahan, and Aury Holtslag, got to play their biggest show yet at the 9:30 Club in December. "Rising Chaos", a band formed by Ernie Page III, Mike Wardlow, Erin Eastead, and Taylor Curran, played in 2010's Battle of the Bands and placed third. Rico Pope and his band, "Emotions" brought down the house at last year's "Battle of the Bands". The exposure of the event surely gave them and other talented artists a name for themselves and helps to them to stand out as some of Battlefield's most musical students.

"Success is a choice" - Battlefield's motto - may be exhibted through every classroom and every playing field, but some of the most amazing achievements have occurred outside of these four walls by the hands of some of the most selfless, talented and courageous students Battlefield may ever know.

While some teenagers would rather spend their time on Facebook and shopping at the mall, senior Katie LeBling has selflessly devoted an average of sixty-six hours a year since starting high school to helping worthwhile causes such as SERVE and numerous mission trips to Guatemala.

Ask any English teacher and they will tell you how much of a struggle it is to get their students to enjoy writing. While she is only a freshman, Jordan Fernandez is about to publishing her very first paranormal romance novel! Soon enough, "Twilight" will be a distant memory and the books by Jordan will be in the hands of tons of book lovers all over the country!

Senior Chris Berger made headlines this summer when he saved the life of a perfect stranger from a burning car. Humbly, he says he did it because he felt anyone else would do the same, but we all know that the courage Chris showed that August day is not something anyone will soon forget.

Bobcats, all of your accomplishments - large and small - are what make Battlefield stand apart from all the rest. Congratulations on ALL of your successes - past, present and future!

During our high school career is when we usually start applying for and working our first jobs. We begin saving up money for new clothes, a new car or for college. Surprisingly, for such an over-crowded school, at least half of our student body is employed. Many students also find the need to balance school, sports and in addition to holding down a part time job.

Even though we live in a small town, there are plenty of job opportunities out here in the Haymarket/Gainesville area. From babysitting in your neighborhood, to serving at your local restaurants, to bagging at grocery stores--these jobs could be the start of your future career.

Even if you do not plan on being a store manager or serving at a restaurant forever, it's a good start to a great job experience and future opportunities. Although working may take up a lot of our time, it all pays off at the end.

What makes us...

United

Below: Senior Johnna Dominick, spent time in Haiti this past summer on a mission trip.

One of the many things that make Battlefield so exceptionally unique is the selflessness and generosity of the students.

While many teenagers need to be asked to do good deeds, these students take it upon themselves to devote their time, talents and hearts to all types of causes from helping the homeless to helping the fight against cancer. There are numerous reasons why these students become involved. Some have lost family members to cancer, others may know what it's like to struggle with what little they have. In any case, it takes a special person to be able to put other's before themselves and to also be able to carry out these deeds with the utmost grace and humility.

Not only do these students selflessly put their needs and desires aside for others, they also inspire others to do the same. Whether it be through numerous DECA fundraisers or "Operation: Turkey" during the holiday season, these Bobcats know the true meaning of generosity. These students (and many others) are the future and we commend you for being there to help a lending hand to those in need. Great job, Bobcats. You are changing the world, one cause at a time!

What makes us...

From one military brat to another--life can be a little difficult at times. From the Commissary, the PX, and getting your first ID at ten and feeling like the big kid in town to knowing the heartache and excitement of counting the days until you can see Mom or Dad walk out of that terminal and run into their arms again.

The population of Battlefield High School is full of children who could not possibly be prouder to be American. As children of heroes at home and overseas, nothing can compare to the pride we feel in our hearts for our parents' sacrifice.

As military kids, we sacrifice for our country too and no one knows it better than we do. The courage, bravery and selflessness of our parents' heroic actions have made us who we are.

We are here, we are strong, and THAT'S what makes us patriotic.

What makes us... TRENDY

Above: Sophomore Nicole Sanregret's light blue Vans are not only very comfortable, but very trendy through the hallways at BHS.

Trends are all over Battlefield, from graphic tees to sweater dresses, friendship bracelets to silly bands, high heels to tennis shoes. Trends at Battlefield are constantly changing. One minute, an item is "in" and the next, its "out". Who knows what really makes a person trendy or not? For some, it is what store you go to, for others, it all depends on what makes them happy, what they stand for, what they like and what makes them comfortable. Sophomore Kennedy Irwin says, "You should always dress the way you feel like. Just be chill."

When looking at where members of the student body get their clothes, Hollister, American Eagle, North Face, and Nike are the most popular, but for some, they find their fashion in a different place. Senior Sara Firestone says, "I normally go to the Salvation Army. I enjoy finding an outfit that is different." Senior Won Jae Jang gets many trendy ideas from a different country. "Many of my trends come from Asia. In Asia, clothes are very popular, but trends turnover fast and they are always coming and going."

As the school year continues, trends may come and go, but the only thing that really matters is that the trend you follow represents who you are! Senior Caitlin Hester says, "I usually pick one thing I'm going to wear and base everything off of that style or color." Even as you read this, the next hottest trend is beginning to sweep the halls of Battlefield and makes its place in our generation.

What makes us... HYPED!

The hallways were decked out with school colors. Students could hardly sit still as they waited for the announcements to come on that released their class to the pep rally which marked the end of spirit week. As students were called to the pep rally, the hallways were filled with Bobcats filling the hallways with high spirits.

Senior Courtney Oates said, "Wacky Wednesday was the best day because everyone participated and went against their comfort zone." However Michelle Ezeobi exclaimed, " Toga day was the day I had anticipated for four years and finally, it was my turn to wear a toga!"

Students and faculty were full of energy at the pep rally. Each class separated into their own sections and were yelling at the top of their lungs to win the title of the loudest class. The tricycle race was participated in by the teachers, (those which the students voted for during lunches) Bobcats Off Broadway performed a dance to the Oompa Loompa remix for their Willy Wonka production, the dance team danced their hearts out to show the school what they're made of and the cheerleaders pumped up the crowd by performing their District Championship routine on the mats.

The stands have never been so crowded and ecstatic in Battlefield history. At the end of pep rally, the seniors finally rushed down to the floors and cheered on their class and football team. This was the best pep rally ever and every Bobcat stood witness.

What makes us... SPIRITED

Spirit Week 2010

"...best time of the year!" Zach Mollica

The Battlefield Bobcats are known county-wide for their inevitable school spirit, and this is most definitely expressed during Spirit Week. During Homecoming Spirit Week 2010, students and teachers get to show how dedicated they are to their school. On Monday, students literally crawl out of their bed and come in their PJ's. Batman to Footsies filled the hallways worn by the unfortunate early bird risers. Tuesday, being twin day, students get to show off not only their matching, but also their creativity skills. Spartans and Jedi's battled it out and Zach and Cody Martin made a guest appearance, as well. Wednesday, which was claimed as the most popular, was Wacky Wednesday. Students dressed in the most random, craziest and some of the ugliest things that could be thrown on at any given time walked the halls with pride. The last two days, students got to show off their class pride! Thursday was Class Theme day, Seniors wore Hip Hop or pop, where they got to dress like Lil' Wayne or Lady Gaga. Juniors wore Disco/Rave, wearing bright neon colors and afros, sophomores wore Rock 'n Roll and sported tight leather pants and band t-shirts. Freshman wore Country and dug out their flannel shirts, cowboy hats and boots. Friday was the annual class color day! Seniors finally wore their traditional white togas and added their own personal flare to the ancient ensemble. The Juniors blacked the school, sophomores represented Battlefield's luscious purple and freshman wore silver/gray.

As well as wearing their pride, each class decorated separate hallways. All of the hallways were spectacular, but in the end, the Seniors of 2011 won the hallway decoration competition.

Overall, Homecoming Spirit Week 2010 was a success and the students of Battlefield High School came together to show off their school spirit and pride!

Homecoming Football Game

The Homecoming game is an event that every student looks forward to. It's not only a time to watch some amazing football, but to socialize with friends and show what Battlefield spirit is all about. It is the time for students to go all-out with spirit by painting their faces, wearing crazy outfits, scream as loud as they want and other things we are not allowed to do during school hours.

On October 29th, our very own Battlefield Bobcats fought their way to victory against Stonewall Jackson High School. Although it was a very chilly night, there were no empty spaces on our bleachers. Along with that, Da Den still showed their support with no shirts on with "GO BOBCATS" on their chests. With the "blacked-out" crowd cheering our bobcats to victory, there was no way Stonewall stood a chance.

During half-time, the Dance Team showed their unstoppable talent that made the stands go wild. Also, our Marching Band put on their jaw-dropping performance that leaves the audience speechless. And last but certainly not least, our 2010 Homecoming Court had the privilege to walk down the field in their fancy clothes. As the senior court awaited to hear who would be crowned their King and Queen of Homecoming, it was finally announced that Kyle Beach and our SCA President Katie Agnos got to take the crowns.

Homecoming Dance

A NIGHT AT THE GRAMMYS

As the leaves began to turn and school kicked into full gear, the buzz about homecoming festivities began to traverse through the halls (and trailers) of Battlefield. Girls spent countless hours surfing the web and frantically searching through the mall in search of "the perfect dress" and accessories to complete their ensembles, while the boys thought of creative ideas to ask that special someone to the dance.

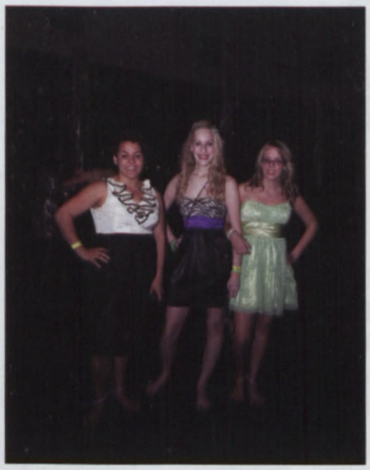

This years theme showcased the glitz and glamour of the "music biz". Groups of friends and couples stepped out in their paparazzi-suited outfits ready for a "Night at the Grammys". The red carpet was rolled out for the celebrities of BHS. The cafeteria was turned into a dazzling epicenter of socialization where friends hung out and feasted on complementary refreshments. Canoodling couples were able to steal a quiet moment away from all the excitement in the courtyard underneath a sky of dazzling stars. As one walked into the gymnasium, as far as the eye could see, there was a crowded dance floor full of students dancing to the beat. It was a night to remember!

When asked what her favorite part of the homecoming dance was, Senior Elizabeth Deabreu smiled and said, "My favorite part was dancing with my friends, but it made me sad that it was my last homecoming." For many new Battlefield students, the homecoming dance was a chance to meet new friends and experience a piece of high school tradition. "The dance was pretty fun! I had a great time being with my friends and peers," said freshman Samantha Brosnahan of her first impression. Memories were made when the Grammys came to Battlefield High School for a night!

What Makes Us... Fanatics "The Den" 2011

Each year, the Senior Class takes it upon themselves to uphold the tradition of being the most spirited group of fans in the crowd. This year, The Den is made up of ten Battlefield fans who show their dedication by spelling out, "GO BOBCATS!" – which they proudly display in rain, shine, heat and cold -- on their bodies. Along with these special ten, there are countless numbers of "Den Groupies" who back up The Den to support their Bobcat athletes.

Over typical cheers and applause will you hear The Den "growling" in the bleachers as the loudest fans Battlefield will ever know. As if yelling and rambunctious screaming were not enough, they also have drums, horns, (most recently added, a vuvuzela) and whatever else they can use to get the crowd on their feet. You can always count on everyone to make as much noise as they can. No matter what the temperature or weather, spectators can count on The Den to rev up the crowd.

They not only show their pride for their football players, but for their other athletes as well – members of The Den have been known to travel as far as Heritage High School to cheer on girls' volleyball. Having The Den at any game – from scrimmages to regionals to states – adds a special feeling to the already induced excitement of what it means to be a Battlefield athletic team.

People

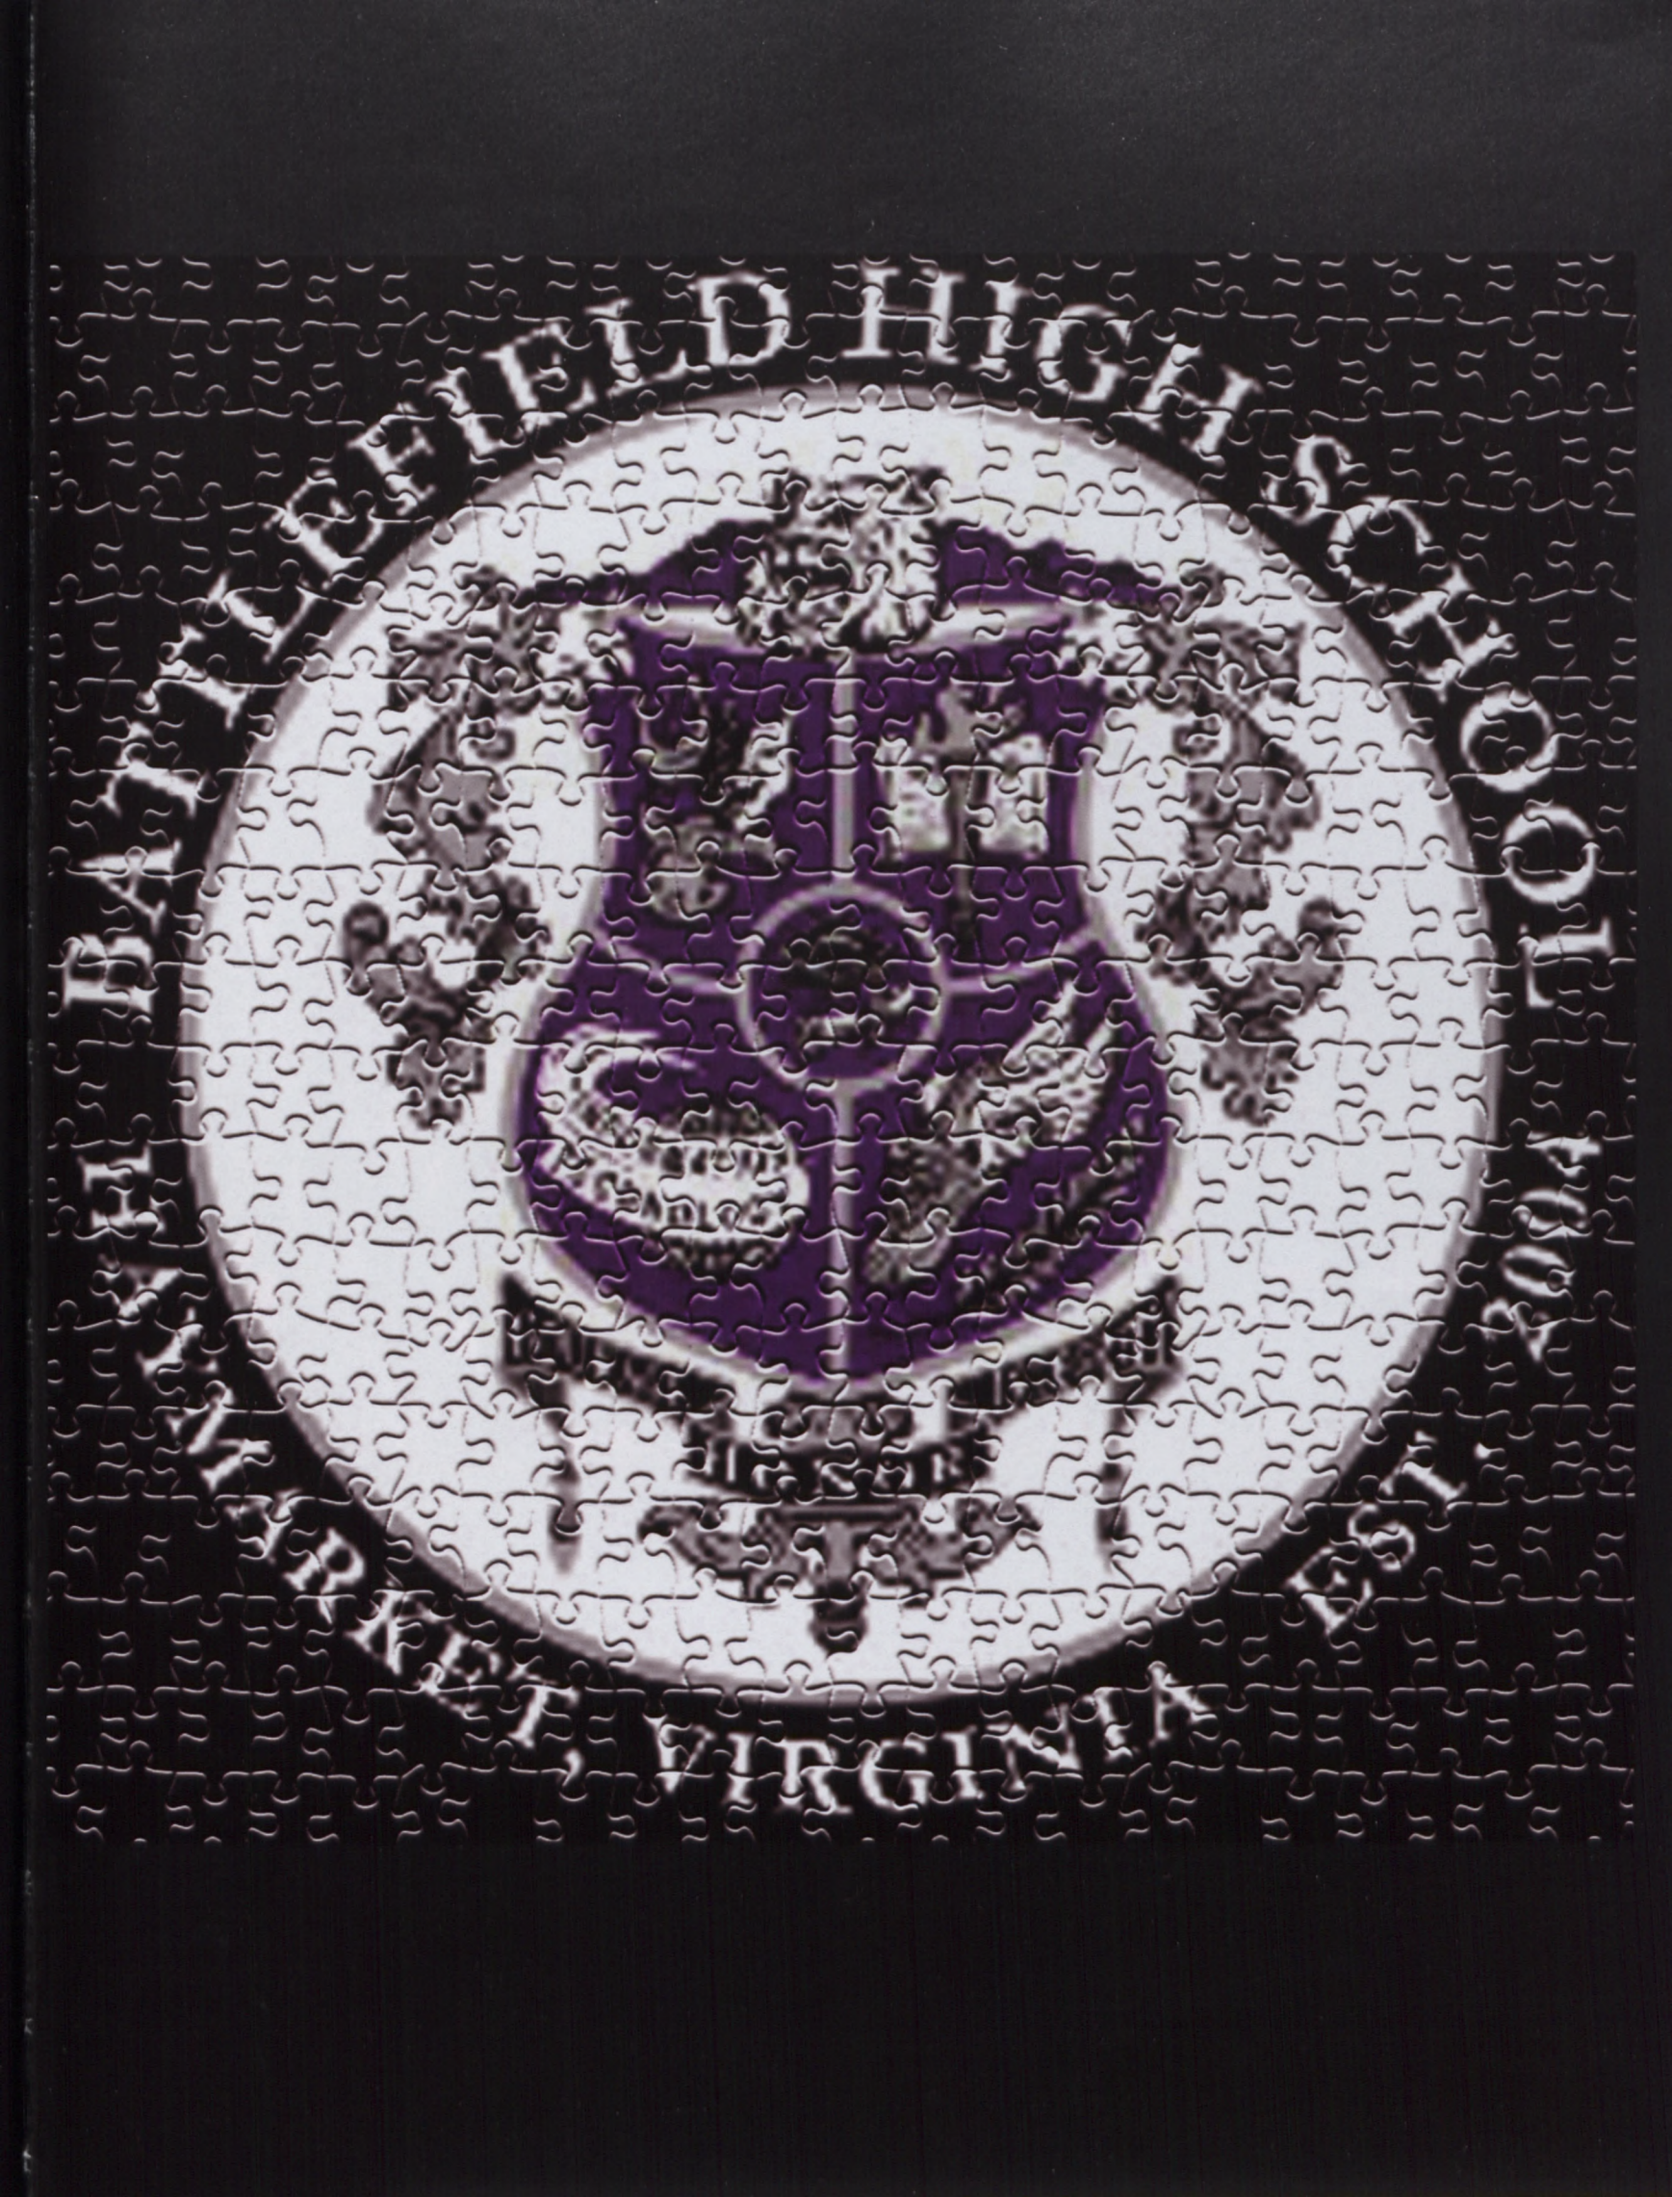

To the fresh-meat freshmen of 2014: The transition from middle school to high school wasn't the easiest, especially after going from the top of the food chain to being the senior's prey. High school is where you start to discover who you are, and who you're going to become. Through that journey, you uncover many things about yourself. There are many things to look forward to with your next three years here--driving, tormenting the upcoming freshmen, prom, and so many others.

To the sassy sophomores of 2013: You're half-way through high school which means one year closer to getting out into the real world. You aren't the babies of the school any longer. This is your time to be looked up to by the upcoming freshmen. Your hardest year is in front of you--the year that really matters. AP classes, research paper, and SATs are all things to keep in mind when starting as a junior. In your upcoming year, you will learn that Jane Schaffer will become your new BFF, and teachers aren't there to hold your hand and guide you through. This is your time to start becoming independent.

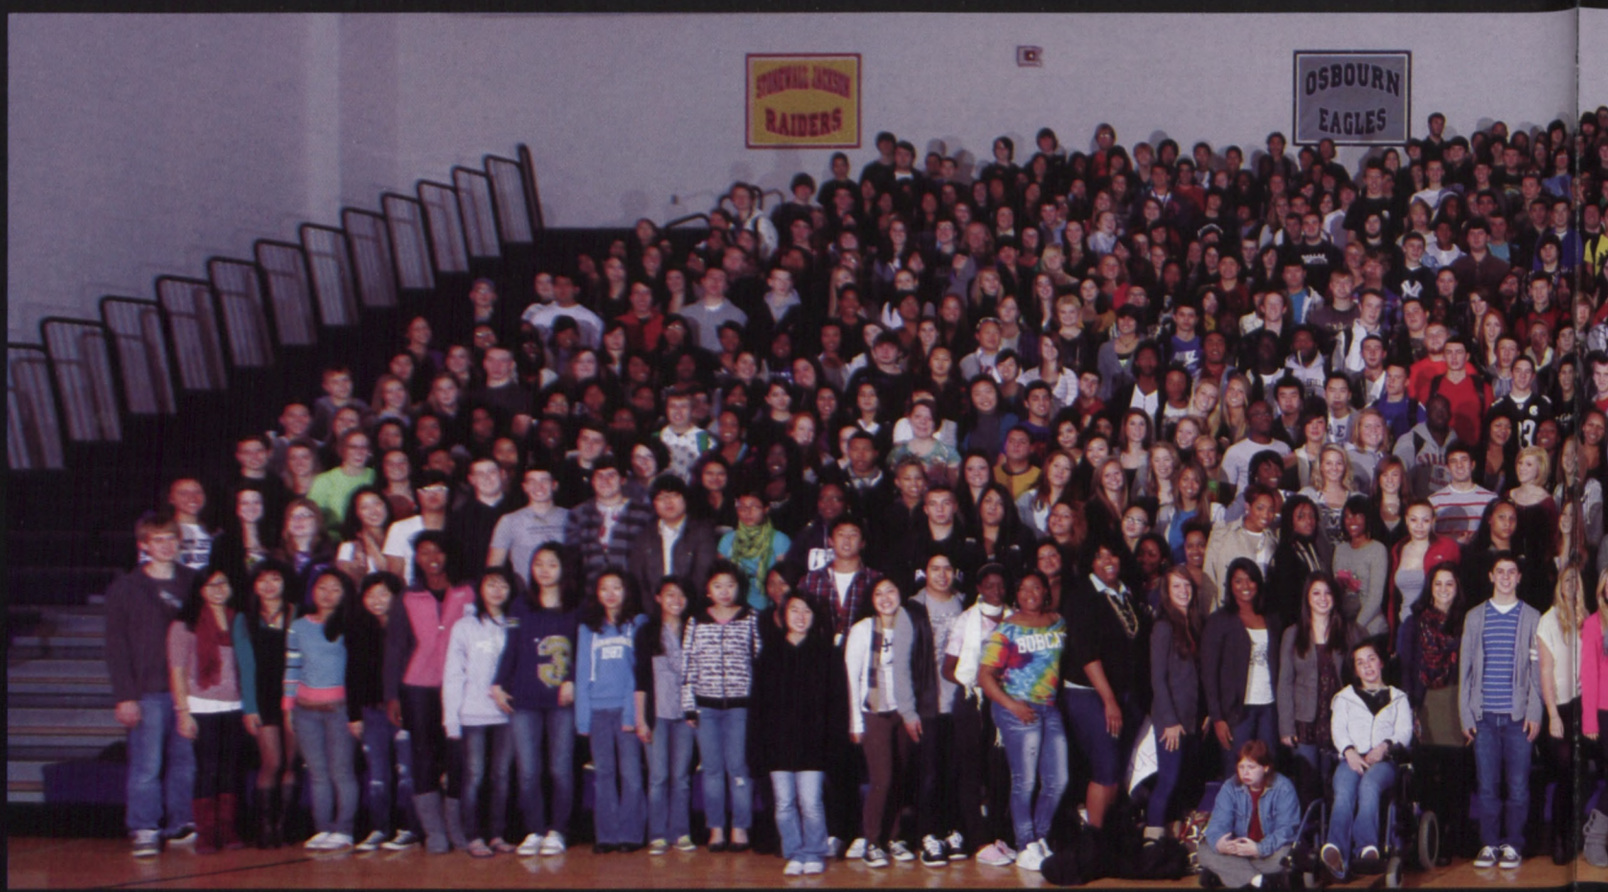

To the jammin' juniors of 2012: Junior year is the most important year in high school and you survived! By now, you have some idea of what you want to do with your life and it's time to start reaching for your goals. Even though the hardest time has past, don't slack off. Keep your mind focused on finishing high school to the best of your ability. Work hard to strive and succeed in your last year. The seniors of BHS now hand down the school for you to rule, so make them proud. And remember… you are here "'til the end of time"!

To the super seniors of 2011: As you move on with your life outside of BHS, remember all the good times you've had here. Music Mondays, Woot Woots, Stromboli Fridays, spirit days, and togas are among many of the things you will remember as you begin your life in the real world. It may seem a bit scary, but you know you have the support of your friends, parents and teachers who believe in you. College and careers are just around the corner and with that comes great responsibility and independence. When you look back on your four years at Battlefield, you know that you will always be a Bobcat at heart. Congratulations class of 2011 and good luck!

An Open Salutation to My Biology II Seniors:

An excellent year to say the very least! I have immensely enjoyed having each of you in my Bio II anatomy & physiology classes this year. I truly believe you gave me so much more pleasure and enjoyment than I did you (unfortunately, many of you did not enjoy some of my dissections ... apologies).

As you take off to your next college campus or follow your life's ambitions, I sincerely wish each of you every success in the endeavors you will undertake. Always remain safe and please do not forget that you are establishing the foundation for your future. In this I give you only one nugget of advice: do not rely on others to make the hard decisions for you - become the leader you are meant to be.

In the Navy, one never really says goodbye ... but do say to those who depart: 'Fair Winds and Following Seas.' I pass along these sage words on this occasion of your BHS graduation. I will look forward to that time we meet again!

All the very best and good luck!
Mr. Irwin, BHS Biology

To all of my current/former students in the class of 2011,
It has been a distinct pleasure and honor teaching every single one of you within the past 4 years. I wish all of you a future full of inspiring moments, abundant laughter, beautiful joy and an unending thirst for knowledge. I cannot wait to see what amazing things you all do with your future. Thank you for sharing your greatness with me, if just a few short years. With a singing animal at my side, I congratulate you and all that you have accomplished. Woot Woot!

Mrs. Byers

Katie Lebling,
As my aide, I thank you for your unending assistance, kindness and insight this year. As my student, I have been inspired by your maturity, compassion and diligence. You have been a blessing to me, most especially this year. Looking forward to seeing what the future holds for you, amazing young woman. Abrazos!

Sra. Byers

To my AP Spanish seniors,
Estimados estudiantes, Es bueno que Uds. hayan sobrevivido el examen más horrible del mundo. Sin embargo, nunca se olviden de las frases del apéndice. Jota ka, christen.

Sinceramente, Sra. Byers

To all of my seniors,
Thank you for making these last two years at Battlefield so fabulous! I will treasure the memories I have of you as my English and Yearbook students! You are all so special and unique in your own ways and I am confident that each and every one of you can pursue your greatest dreams and accomplish anything and everything you set your minds to. I am so very proud of all of you and wish you nothing but the best that life has to offer!

With love,
"Hackett"

Senior Goodbye

Finally, we have come to the final chapter of our lives in high school; Graduating from Battlefield. We have overcome the biggest obstacles during these past four years. Through ups and down, from break ups to make ups, to just being friends to the ones you can count on, we have all struggled once during our years at Battlefield. This is just preparation for the real world and no matter what you think, you have grown stronger than ever through those struggles. No more waking up at 6am, cutting off people in the traffic line, eating chicken everyday, receiving detention because of tardies, having class in a trailer (Tod), hearing Mr. Florer yell how many seconds we have left to get to first block, dodging administrators while wandering in the hallways during class, worrying about doing homework, sending in college applications, taking the SATs/ACTs, can I get a "woot woot!", rushing to get in line for lunch, etc.

But never forget the better memories you've had here at Battlefield as a senior–meeting up with your friends before and after school, getting ready together for spirit week, cheering on the football team at pep rallies and at their games (STATE CHAMPS!), watching the Spartans vs. Jedi's after school, meeting up at Qdoba, crowding McDonald's after the games, dancing to the drum line, "Vint hillin'" with your boys, and just overall enjoying being with your friends and teachers. As the year goes by, I'm sure you've all created the best memories ever with your friends this senior year. Live your life to the fullest with all your loved ones. If you're going to college, serving the military, or just working to save up money, no matter what you do or where you go, just know that you made it and no one can stop you. We all have the biggest dreams ever that we want to become reality. So make that dream come true.

While w may have picked up our caps and gowns and all that senior stuff that's supposed to help us remember the "good ol' days", some of the things that you remember most can't be put on paper. We've all grown up together as a family here at Battlefield. We brought the best students here academically and athletically. We brought our best personalities together to become Bobcats. We are what made Battlefield different. This is our year and a year to never forget. Congratulations Class of 2011!

- Nila Soulisak

"When I came to Battlefield, I knew absolutely no one. Over these four short years, I have had some of the best memories I could ever ask for. I love you class of 2011! "- Michelle Hedrick

"I hope your dreams take you to the corners of your smiles, to the highest of your hopes, to the windows of your opportunities, and to the most special places your heart has ever known." ~Author Unknown

Congratulations,

Class of 2011!

The world's not ending...

The Class of 2012

Being a junior is more than preparing for the SAT, the research paper and more challenging classes. This is the year where you will finally have more freedom than ever before. Freedom is power and also comes with a ton of responsibility. This freedom gives you choices. Good or bad, the repercussions of these choices can make or break you. Whether it be your GPA, athletics or after-school activities – success is a choice and it is your choice.

This year, you will start considering colleges. As you begin this process, remember that you are taking the reigns. This can be overwhelming, but the night is darkest before the dawn. This is when you will find yourself and who you really are. This is when you will begin to leave your mark. Keep in mind that by this time next year, all this hard work will pay off and you will reap the benefits.

You are a junior. We are the class of 2012. Remember, the world's not ending ... we're just taking over!

The Class of 2012

We're fresh, we're clean, we're the

Well, sophomores, you made it! This year, you were no longer the "little fish in the big pond"- you knew there was no pool on the third floor, because...there is no third floor. Finding your classrooms was easier, you knew who your favorite teachers were and you always knew the most direct route to the cafeteria to ensure a closer place in line.

This year also brought some new challenges, as well. Your teachers have helped to prepare you for the work force through "Interview Day" and, hopefully, you learned a thing or two about how to land a job. No, Jane Shaffer is not "just a ninth grade English strategy" - she's going to be with you for the next two years as you embark on the "dreaded" eleventh grade research paper, so get used to it! Not so fast, Speedy! True, traffic getting to school can be a nightmare, but the whole purpose of Driver's Ed is to teach you how to drive ... safely!

Most importantly, you're developing a name for yourself and your class. Believe it or not, freshmen do look up to you. You need to keep raising that bar for the high expectations you have set for yourselves. Hopefully, by now, you have a better idea of who you are and who you're becoming and that you will continue on that journey long after you've left Battlefield High School.

Ms. Hackett

The Class of 2013

STEP ASIDE WHILE WE ROCK THE SCENE; WE'RE THE CLASS OF 2013!!!

We've only just begun

The Class of 2014

Freshman year can be the scariest thing in the whole world. You have to start over at a new school which you really don't know anything about, learn the "do's and don't's" of high school, find your way through the crowded hallways and hope that you don't get lost, meet new people, and try to find out who you really are and what you want to become.

Being a freshman also means a new start. No one really knows you yet and you can really shine if you try. It is a time to try new things and learn from your mistakes (trust me, you will make them), but as much as the seniors and juniors want to deny it, we have been in your shoes at one point and we will be in it again when we go off to college.

True, you are the "little fish in the big pond" right now, but this is your time to really make a splash. Today starts the next four years of your life and, hopefully, you'll look back on these fears and nerves, the experiences, the laughter and the mistakes as something that made you into the person you will be in 2014.

Freshman & New Student Orientation

Starting a new school can be a frightening, yet thrilling experience. Weather it's being an upcoming freshman or moving from another school, the Freshmen and New Student Orientation welcomed all sorts of newcomers.

The day started early for the summer slumber-heads. Upon their arrival to the school, the students checked in with members of the SCA staff and received their folders which contained small school spirited welcoming gifts as well as papers to help them get around the school easier. Following their arrival and check in, a meeting in the auditorium was held which began with the introduction of our SCA president, Katie Agnos, our principal, Mrs. Ethridge-Conti and the day's agenda. Following the conclusion of the meeting, the new students split up into their designated groups and toured the school led by Battlefield upperclassmen and teachers. The students toured around the cafeteria and showed how to survive the lunch line, and played trivia games in the classrooms on the topics of school security, clinic information, and hallway procedures.

The students were exposed to the different areas of the school and learned how the school was organized by streets and names. The school's DECA club held a "What To Wear" and "What Not To Wear" fashion show. By midday, the students and staff took a short recess for lunch and 200 pizzas later, they were off finishing the rest of their tour.

Although the new students were taught the fundamentals of being at Battlefield High School, they had to wait to find out for themselves--the truth about the 3rd floor pool, the amount of traffic on 2nd street and just how chaotically fun Battlefield can be.

Above: Students are quizzed on all of important information they'll need to know to have a successful first year at Battlefield.

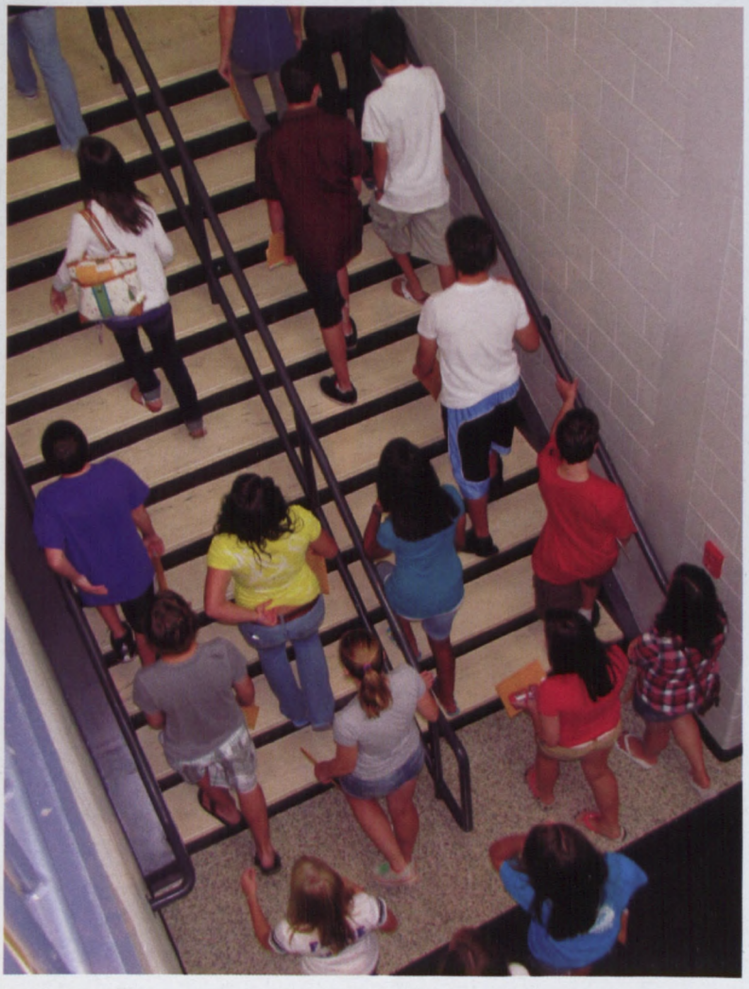

Below: No, Freshmen, there is NO pool on the third floor!

What makes us...

inspiring

Faculty

What makes up the body of the school is not just the students, but the faculty too. They contribute to our Bobcat family. When most people hear the term "faculty", they automatically think of teachers. However, they are not the only faculty here--our principal, Mrs. Ethridge-Conti, all of the assistant principals, administrative and security staff, guidance counselors, and the janitorial and cafeteria staff are just as important in making up each school day as successful, enjoyable and memorable as they can be.

Every teacher has a certain quality that sets them apart from one another. Some are known as the "chill teachers", the ones who can always make you laugh, some are the strict and invoke a fear in you that no one else can and some are a mixture of both. Regardless of what each teacher is like, their one goal is to teach their students as much as possible and to leave us with indelible memories to last us long after we leave the halls of Battlefield High School.

- Dana Robeson

Goodbye and Good Luck, Class of 2011!

Jourdan James,
Jourdan, you were my voice of reason to your "Boo-Boo." Thanks for keeping me straight during 3rd period. I know you'll do great things out in the world!
Mrs. Tillman

Lexie Jones,
It all started with one suggestion (to move a few seats around) and it was downhill from there. Thanks for making 3rd period better! I know you'll find a good school and I know you'll do great things.
Mrs. Tillman

Claire Olsen and Caitlyn Cuilik,
I finally got your names down (and you never even wore the shiorts!). Thanks for sharing your 2nd period stories with me. I'll miss you all, and Tori! Enjoy your freedom, but behave!
Mrs. Tillman

To Our Favorite Teachers

With Love from the Class of '11

The teacher who is indeed wise does not bid you to enter the house of his wisdom... but rather leads you to the threshold of your mind.
~Khalil Gibran

Silvana Guerrero

Ms. Gregory,
You have been a very inspiring figure in my life these past four years; musically, vocally and personally. Thanks for everything. You're the best! Jenna Brady

Ms. Chabot,
Thank you for being such an awesome teacher junior year and then continuing to be just as awesome to me senior year. I'm going to miss you so much next year. Stay off the 5 o'clock news.
Lauren Panell

Ms. Hackett,
Wow! The past two years with you have been amazing. I never could have done Junior and Senior year without you! I know I get on your nerves a lot of the time, but you know you can't get enough of me! I'll never forget just talking with you about anything. I'll always remember you as one of the best, most down to Earth teachers. Thank you for always being there for me whenever I needed you. I'm going to miss you immensely and Krystin, Allison, Steve and I will take a road trip up to Jersey to visit you! I love you! Dana Robeson

Ms. Hackett,
Having you for a teacher for the past two years had been GREAT!!! I have enjoyed working with you in yearbook and learning more in English. You have taught me so much and thank you just does not seem to cover it. I am so grateful to be able to have you as a teacher and I wish you luck with whatever you do in the future. I LOVE YOU HACKETT!!!! Brittani Riddle

Ms. Gregory,
I have enjoyed being in chorus with you for the past four years. You have taught me so much during with my time at Battlefield. The most important lesson I have learned is to let things go that are not in my control. I have enjoyed coming in during Breakfast Club and just laughing. Breakfast was a great way to start my day. You have helped me become a better singer and sight-reader. Music is one thing that I will always cherish and you helped me appreciate it even more. Music is not just what I listen to, but it is all around us. Understand how it works makes listening and performing it more of a pleasure. Thank you so much for all you do. Brittani Riddle

Ms. Gregory,
I will miss you so much next year. AS my teacher and director, you have taught me the importance of being strong, independent, and hardworking. Throughout my four years in chorus here at Battlefield, you have inspired me to pursue music throughtout my life and to always be the best musician and person that I can be. You have helped me to believe in myself and to be fearless when faced with challenges or adversity. After I leave BHS, I will take with me not only a plethora of experiences and lessons, but memories that I will never forget. Our "Senior Song" sums it up perfectly, "kings have riches widely lane, lords have land but then again, we have friends and song no wealth can buy." Thank you for everything! I will forever and always be one of your choir kids... Allison Michelli

Ms. Brever,
Being in your English 12 class this year has been great. My favorite book that we have read was Hamlet. Who knew that Hamlet could make sense and I would really enjoy it. I enjoyed your stories. Thank you so much for all that you do. Good luck with whatever the future may bring you.
Brittani Riddle

Mr. Lem,
You are an amazing teacher!!!! Hope your future is bright and grants you many blessings.
Brittani Riddle

Ms. Hackett,
Really and truly, there are no words to say except for THANK YOU! You were there for me all through the hardest year of my life and without that; school would have been 10 times more difficult. Honestly, you're one of the only two teachers I can say that about. Ever. And I just looked forward to coming to your class everyday and seeing your beautiful face! I'll miss you Ms. Hackett! I love you! Rachel Logue

Mrs. Smith,
Mrs. Smithy! I'm going to miss you so much! Hopefully when I come back I can babysit precious Luck and Carly again! Don't forget me! I'll comeback to visit ASAP! Thanks for being a great role model.
Courtney Thomas

Mrs. Graham,
You are the best teacher that we have ever had. Thanks for all of your love and support!
Mackenzie Smith and Tyler Welch

Madame Clemence,
Merci pour votre temps et nous vous aimerons. Vous êtes super cool! AP 5 Class

Madame Clemence,
Merci pour beaucoup d'heurs de drôle. Les temps que j'ai eu en classe français resteront avec moi toujours.
Gwendolyn Boll

Mr. Cook,
There are thing that I'll remember all my life, like Journalism! Thank you for your "whispered words of wisdom!"
The J-2 Crew

Señora Byers,
Una persona muy guay, una profesora legítima. Señora Byers puede cambiar la idioma de español de una asignatura difícil a una idioma que nostros hemos aprendado amar. Gracias, Señor Byers, para los tres años pasados. Sobre todo, tù eres el major.
Ashley Haight

Ms. Piccione,
'Cione! Tech and Engineering Drawing classes were the best! Playing DDR and looking at the latest dress styles with Thanh was awesome. Despite all the fun times, I still somehow managed to get certified. Thanks Silver Fox.
Gwendolyn Boll

Mr. Lem,
We love watching our school's news segments as they depict an increasingly worse reputation. To think our school is known for Christmas sweaters and yoga pants. Oh woe! Good luck with your dance club dream!
Your 1st Block

Ms. Drake,
Thank you for helping me through the most diffcult time of my life and putting up with me while I was an idiot. Out of all of my teachers, I have the most respect for you. Steven Haering

Mr. King,
Thank you so much for everything you have done this year. You came in as a new teacher and you definitely made a name for yourself as an amazing teacher. You are always there for your students to help them with anything they need, and I have all the respect in the world for you. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have been doing as great as I did in Algebra II. I will never forget all of your quirkiness and goofiness. MATH NINJAS FOREVER! Dana Robeson

Mrs. Bellino,
We have been through so much together; all of my four years in high school. We came to Battlefield at the same time and grew together. We have had our ups and downs, but we managed to get past that and still love each other. You have helped me so much with Theatre and just with life in general. I knew I could talk to you about anything and everything. So thank you. Thank you for all you've done for me and this drama department. I'll be back, just you wait! I love you and I'll miss you!
Dana Robeson

Mr. Pauly,
US Government has been fun. I loved writing in the journals. I felt free to tell you my thoughts on different topics. You have taught me so much and I learned something new every class period. You were very helpful by staying after when I didn't understand something. I loved the off topics we got onto. Thank you so much for what you have done for me. I hope that whatever happens in your future is bright and a blessing.

For this book, the Lynx Staff decided to start a new tradition of dedicating the yearbook to a teacher the seniors felt most influenced their years here at Battlefield.

Here are some things the senior class had to say about why Mr. Chris Lem is so deserving of this award...

He is the champ.

He's the best teacher ever!

He is a boss.

He is really helpful. He really cares about his students and goes all out when teaching. We are always doing something and its always fun. You couldn't fall asleep in his class.

He is a good teacher and he can talk like Kermit the frog.

He is an awesome teacher!

He is very supportive of everything I do.

He supports everyone regardless of how busy he is.

He inspires all of us with his humor, willingness, and love of literature. Plus...he's awesome!

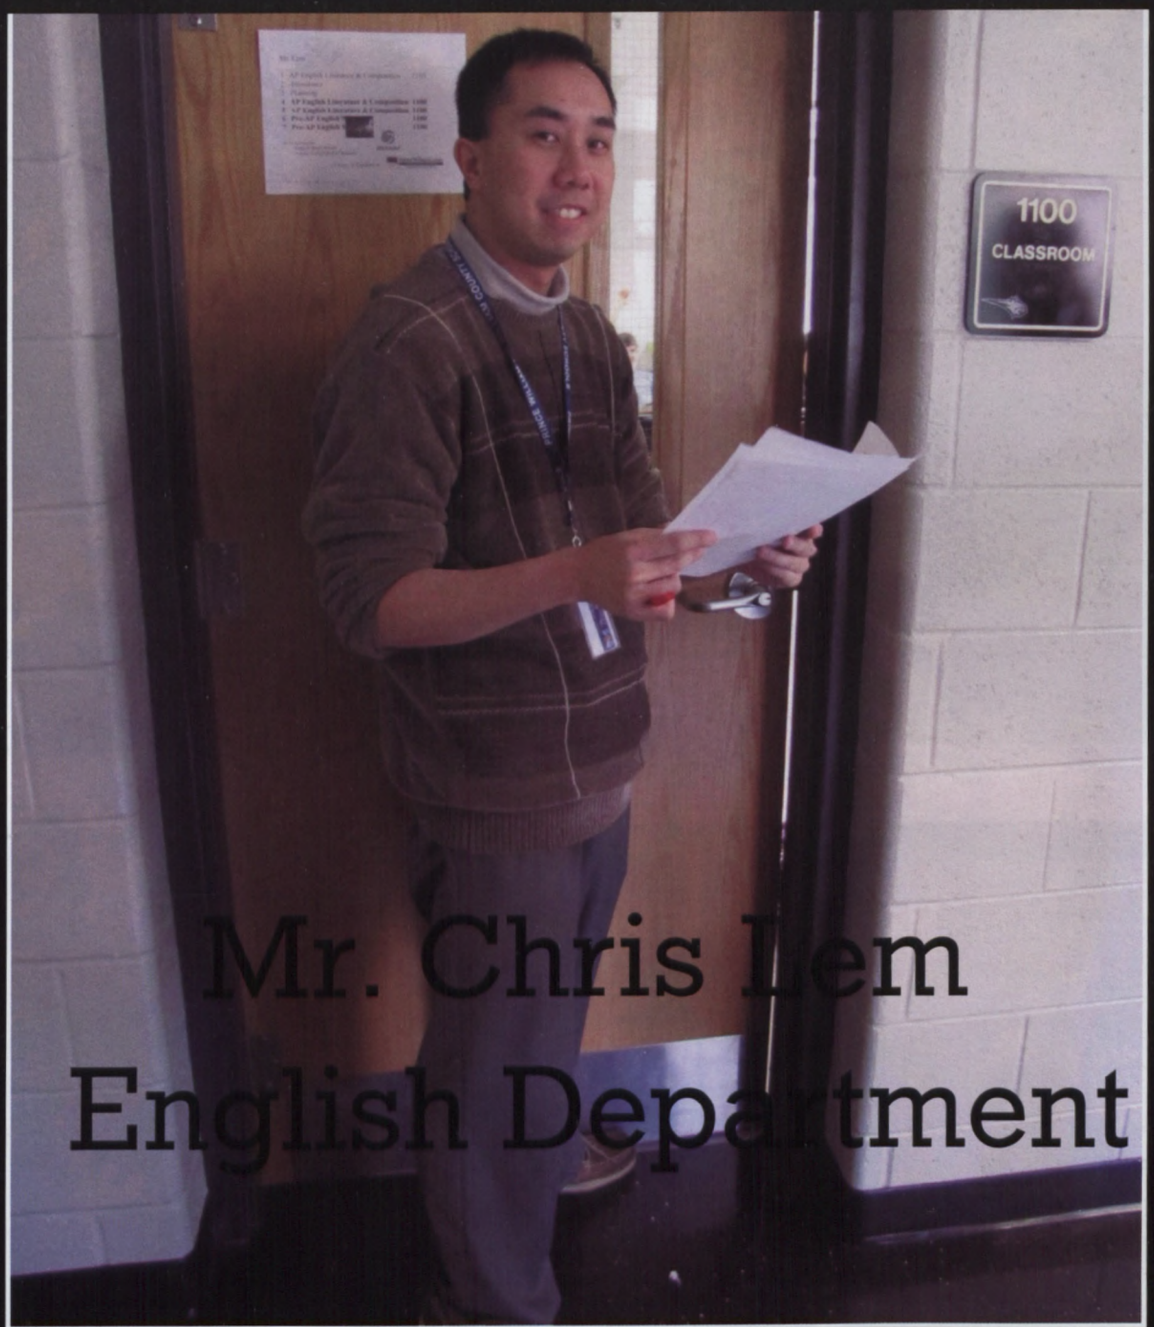

He is funny, encouraging and clearly passionate. I love him!

He is hilarious.

He teaches well, is funny, understands us, and is energetic.

Senior Class Yearbook Dedication

Mr. Lem, we congratulate you as being the first teacher to win this award and we are proud to honor you as one of the most influential, inspiring and dedicated teachers we've ever had! Thank you!

What makes us...

Sports

With all of the stress that can come with being a high school student, it is nice to have an after school sport to release some of the aggravation. Our school is lucky enough to offer a wide variety of sports for students to select from. Although the excruciating practices result in sweat and exhaustion, the end victory is worth it, which the coaches are aware of. Every season, we can depend on a phenomenal players with the best coaches available to altogether make unstoppable teams. Their hard work after school, their determination to dominate, their pride in their teammates, the faith from the crowd...all of those are leading factors to why our Battlefield sports teams monopolize all of the competition.

As well as the athletes, we are fortunate enough to have the majority of our student body who likes to go and support their classmates. At football games, we can always count on a full set of bleachers and "Da Den" pumping up the players. With our loud voices, over crowded school, obnoxious outfits and all in all school spirit, there is no way that any other school can compare. We, as a school, can always depend on fierce teams to cheer on.

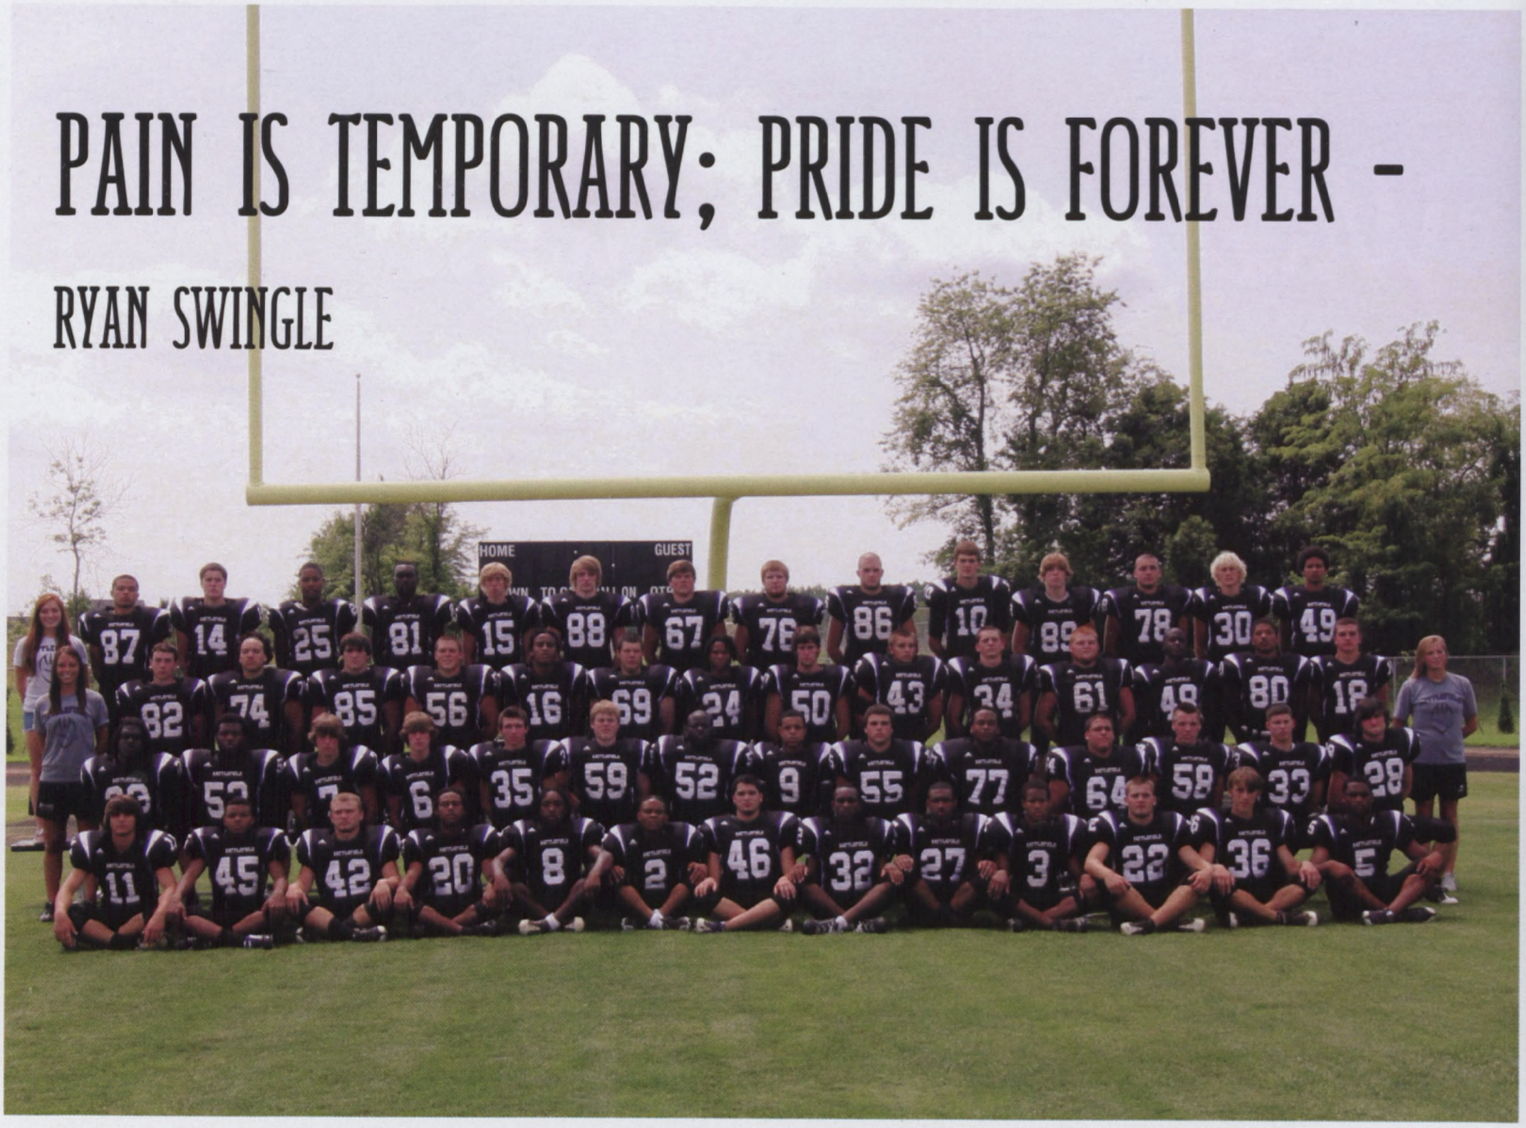

Whether your specialty is running, swimming, throwing, kicking or hitting balls, Battlefield will always have the sport for you. No matter what the sport is, BHS has highly recognized and acknowledged sports across the state. Everywhere you may go in life, sports will always be around you. Its a big part of our society whether we like it or not. Something that separates Battlefield from every other sports team across the nation, is that we know we give unconditional support with everything that happens. While the athletes may be disappointed in themselves for a little bit, they move on and own in the next game or meet. With that simple idea of mind, this might be why we are so gifted with all of the wins that occur here.

From the cold fall football games to the hot spring baseball games, there is a chance for every talent to shine. Sports, in some way or manner, brings our school together to make the students high school life so worthwhile. So while you are here, enjoy your life cheering on your school and socializing with your friends at these type of functions and just live it up. With all of this said, that is what makes us dominate.

After long, hot days in the blazing sun, Battlefield's varsity football team started their season off with a record of 4-0. Though they did not finish their regular season undefeated, they did not let a defeat let them down. They kept their heads up and kept fighting.

When they're down, Coach Cox's thinks about what he can do differently to help the players be successful. He never panics and has confidence in the players. His positive attitude helps keep the players attitude up as well. Coach Cox picks the team up by giving them encouragement and showing them what they need to get better at and reinforce what they do well.

When asked who improved the most as a returning player, Cox answered, "Eric Loehle. Eric was injured all of last year and has done a great job at offensive tackle." Coach Cox said his goals for this year, and every other year were, "First is to win the district, but we didn't. The second goal was to make the playoffs and we did. The new goal for the remainder of the season is to be regional champs."

This year was another outstanding year for Battlefield football. The team worked hard all season and their dedication and work ethic paid off. Being on the team is an excellent way to start off their high school career. It gets the players excited for the new school year and starting high school as freshmen. The freshmen team was victorious again with an undefeated record. They played six games and put forth all of their effort until they finished the season.

With sixty-two freshmen, the bond between these players was essential for their vast improvement on the field. Many of them do not know each other and are forced to start from scratch every year to form a new team that is able to work together and be successful each and every game.

Cameron Skaff, quarterback, is immensely proud of the team. "Everyone gave their all this season, especially when the going got tough." Individually, the players have their own personal achievements as well. For The Most Improved Player, Ryan Torres was noticed for his own superior improvements on the field. The most dedicated player was recognized as Matt Dooley, who gave all he had for his team both on and off the field. But when it came down to the all around award, Cameron Skaff recognized his teammate Victor Ceglie as the Most Valuable Player.

The 2010 Freshmen Football team set the bar high for the many years of freshmen to come.

Being a team member on the junior varsity football team takes hard work and dedication. As Gameli Avor says, "the team forms special bonds with each other and have friendships that will last a lifetime." This season, Battlefield's junior varsity football team went 6-0 and sophomore Austin Thibodeaux says that that was the best part of the season. Junior, Tyler Callender, is looking forward to the huge crowds for home games while playing varsity next year while sophomore River Piercy is excited for fighting through the cold, winter games with the crowd is cheering his name.

Sophomores Gameli Avor and Austin Thibodeaux agree that sophomore, Junior Bennin, is the most improved player having scored two touch downs in the last two games. The majority of the team would get pumped up before games by listening to music such as, Drake, Lil Wayne, and "screamo". Others got pumped by eating. Some also got excited for the game by getting in a circle and screaming.

All in all, the junior varsity football team has their hopes set high for another undefeated season in the 2010!

Run Baby, Run!

The Battlefield Cross Country team has grown immensely over the years, and this season has been one of their best! With many new freshman runners, the team's progression has been record-breaking, and the new addition to their family has made them stronger as a team. Having team dinners at Buffalo Wild Wings and hosting pasta parties, the team knows how to stick together and constantly encourage each other on and of the track.

The team often practices at the Battlefield in Manassas. "I hate that hill!" Senior Claire Olsen says every time she drives by in Manassas. The team runs 5-7 miles during practice up and down the hills of the battlefield everyday. Endurance is definitely a skill learned by doing a sport as tough as Cross Country. With races against 5 schools in our district, and many outside of the district. The team sure does represent our BHS strength and pride. And despite their early season in the school year, the runners definitely set BHS records that blow Prince William County away!

Boys & Girls Golf

"It was exciting. We definitely had one of the best seasons," says head golf coach, Tom Metts about the 2010 golf season. With the help of their graduating seniors, Brendan Pastor, Connor Perez, Brent Richbourg, Tara Buchanan and Blair Clafin, the Bobcats were able to tie a team record of 294 in a match against Loudoun Valley. Coach Metts is hoping these seniors will continue their love of golf as they go on to college next year.

The girls experienced much success this season with Marisa Riley (96), Myla Brown (96), Olivia Kil (99) and Grace Kim (104) all qualifying to the Girls' State Tournament. Khushboo Thiagaraj even went on to win a medal!

Brandon Pastor went on to experience a great success finishing in the Top 25 finish out of 72 golfers at States as the boys rallied together to claim numerous titles in the Northwest Regional and Cedar Run District Tournaments.

As with all other Battlefield athletics, the golf team has aggressively shown their dominance on the green and are prepared to defend their stellar reputation for the next season!

Varsity

Field Hockey

This year, the varsity field hockey team created a whole new family. They had a new varsity head coach, and almost all new players. Although the team faced challenges throughout the season with several new faces, Coach Amanda Brever was determined to create a sense of unity and communication within the team. Their roughest game of the season was their second game against Osbourn. They lost in triple overtime, during the second round of strokes. Yet because of their passion and drive to win, they accepted their defeat and went in to the next game even harder.

Coach Brever said, "We all grow and improve, but we also make mistakes, and each season we're just trying to continue to learn and develop as a team and as a program." Junior Laura Szczyrba, who played extremely well in midfield, was the backbone of their defense holding strong for the team. Also, junior Ashley Bishop, known as "the top scorer", was continuously taking the ball down the field and anxiously ready by the goal post at all times to scoop the ball.

Coach Brever's most improved player was junior Kimmie Wentworth. As her appreciation grew towards her team, she became dangerously fast on every break-away, determined and ready. As the team grew into a family, they ended with a 4-8 record and a districts record of 5-9.

Junior Varsity Field Hockey

Ready for the win!

The junior varsity field hockey team is made up of dedicated and hard-working freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Team Captain, Nicole Castrellon, says, "The team had its ups and downs throughout the season like every team. It was hard at first due to the large amount of new players that came in, and no one really knew each other, but as the season went on and everyone bonded and became very close, which reflected onto the field when we played."

They bonded and grew stronger as a team by making team t-shirts at the beginning of the season, going out to eat countless times and, to end off the season, had a team sleepover. Castrellon, when asked about the most inspiring moment of the season says was "when we won our first game against Osbourn because we all pulled together and worked very hard to get out first win."

The team was coached by Mrs. Moser, a mom with two kids, but nonetheless incredibly passionate when it comes to field hockey. The team liked that Coach Moser spoke her mind, pointing out things they would do wrong, which helped all the girls improve in their weaker areas. She also made them run often to keep them in shape throughout the season.

In reflecting on this past season, Coach Moser said that her most improved player was Angela Cho. She also went on to think back to their toughest game of the season-- the game they played against Forest Park. Because it was so brutally hot outside, they had to play without goalies. Castrellon added that when the score was against them, she and her teammates would keep their heads up and play their hearts out in order to finish the game strong. The team ended their 2010 season with a record of 2 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie.

The junior varsity cheer squad put differences aside when it comes to being a team. Junior varsity consists of many different cheer skills, such as stunting, tumbling and motions. The girls push themselves to work their way up to a varsity level, even competing against other varsity teams in one competition.

Captains Michelle Kim, Taylor Pender, and Faith Thomas set great examples for the others. The team has gone through many ups and downs, but in the end, they were always there for each other no matter what.

The junior varsity squad worked hard to be the best, and to always improve. While they may not be a varsity team, they're definitely on their way up to the top!

Varsity Volleyball

"Keep moving forward!"

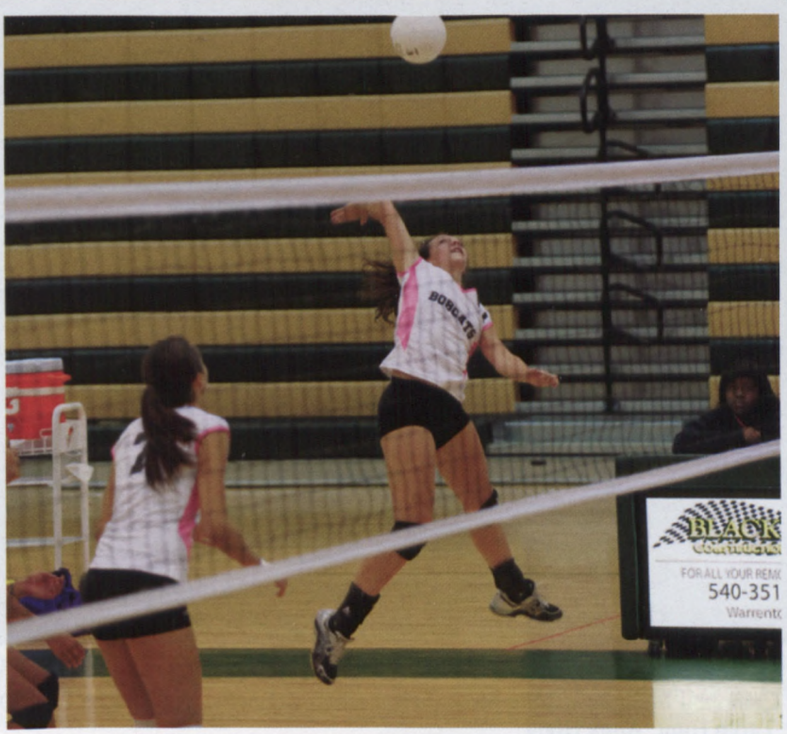

"Keep moving forward," was the theme instilled in every player on the varsity volleyball team this year. They kept it in their hearts every game and gave it their all this season. Not knowing how this season would turn out, they pulled through exceptionally well. They made their seventh straight semifinal playoff appearance, had a historic win over Forest Park, and took a set for the first time ever over Osbourn Park.

Seniors Jasmine Mann and Bailey Liddle worked hard and made the all district teams. Jasmine Mann made first-team all-district and Bailey Liddle made second-team all-district. Honorable Mentions for the 2010 season went to Senior Allie Rash, Junior Brigette Boyd, and Sophomore Hanna Radhi. For the 2010 season, everyone improved and worked together as a team to accomplish and understand the game of volleyball.

During their award ceremony, freshman Anna Hong was awarded Most Valuable Player. Many of the girls enjoyed bonding together as they played their favorite sport. They look forward to strengthening their volleyball skills in the upcoming years.

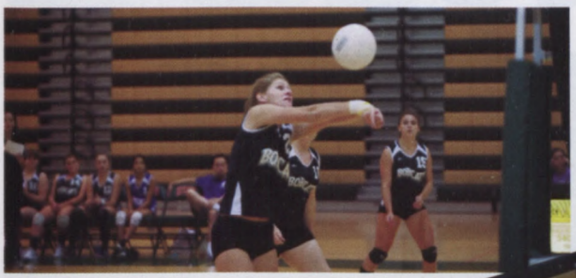

There is one factor that distinguishes this team from all the others. One may notice that they have dedication and drive. The team overall had a successful season. Starting middle hitter, Brooke Lincoln said "We stayed positive and never gave up with the help of our coach Amy T." Drive is a major factor in distinguishing a successful team. The girls used this to their benefit, which allowed them to crush the other teams.

The Lady Bobcats started the 2010-2011 season with a series of vigorous tryouts, During tryouts they performed drills, relays, and scrimmages and had to make it past first and second cuts. These tryouts determined the dedicated and talented players who would lead the Bobcats to a successful season.

Before the season started, the ladies had a sleepover at Alexi Giannelli's house where they strengthened their relationships by playing team building games. Now closer together, the girls were able to overcome the odds and have a successful season. During practices, the girls ran and performed butterfly and salt and pepper drills. To get hyped before the games, the Lady Bobcats would all eat together and cheer for the freshmen as they watched them play.

When it was game time, the ladies battled it out on the court with Rachel Kerxton, Allie Vega, and Cassandra Curry leading the team as captains under Monica Potter's coaching directions. With hard work and dedication the girls finished the season with eight wins and eight losses.

Between half-time on Friday nights and competitions, everyone has a chance to behold the hard work and dedication of this family through the Marching Bobcats' performances. As they play their hearts out, they become enthralled in and part of the music itself as they snap and move together to the music and are simultaneously playing as they march. They are the "Band Family", and this field and the band room is home--not only to the marching band and three band classes, but to the students on the Color Guard and Winter Guard as well.

Mr. Matthew Brodt inspires and pushes his students to be and do the best they can. "I believe that work is not a four letter word--it's an attitude. I try to show students that through hard work and dedicated repetition, success can be achieved by all. When students physically see a result from hard work it reinforces the notion that hard work prevails in the end."

Mr. Brodt is not just an instructor to his students, but a mentor to students like Alex Lambert, a junior and a trumpet player. "Mr. Brodt is my mentor; he is the person I look up the most. He taught me self-worthiness and gave me the confidence in myself to do better—it is a feeling of self-worth that cannot be taken away. He does this by the way he treats others, by example, and by teaching us pride and integrity."

Mr. Brodt says, "With that in mind, I try to guide students by example and mentoring when needed. I try to show students that hard work can have elements of fun and that doing the right thing is not always easy, but gives you the personal satisfaction of doing the right thing and shows that you have integrity…"

This year, through the hard work and dedication from all the students—from section leaders and section members, to parent volunteers, the color guard and drum line--the band has achieved many titles and successes.

The basic fundamentals such as dribbling, passing, and shooting are needed to be a basketball player but team work, dedication, and drive are needed to be as successful as the Battlefield varsity basketball players. Loosing their entire starting line up the previous year, the Bobcats had their work awaiting them to remain District Champions. For the team, training started in the summer months and continued until tryouts in November. The boys devoted themselves entirely to basketball, dedicated their year to Coach Bent, and did whatever they could to better the basketball program. Sophomore Roman Hall said, "Starting early made us stronger and faster. We wouldn't be were we are right now." The offensive loss of Jamie Robinson may have left big shoes to fill, but sophomore Tarik Diggs was ready to try. He succeeded, helping the team out with his skills. Senior Trent Diggs shared, "We play as a team. There is NO I!." This key concept helped the boys end with a successful season.

Junior Varsity Boys Basketball

People may mistake the freshmen and JV boys' basketball teams as being the underdogs because they are not at the very top, but when it comes to their record, the bottom is the last place they are at. Our freshmen boys scored a 6-5 record. Battlefield proved that with practice, hard work and perseverance, anything is possible. That determined-to-win attitude is often reflected in the score, with the Bobcats always in the lead. This year they showed dedication and drive in every game. Great job on a successful season boys!

Girls Varsity Basketball

Lady Bobcats Stay in the Game

Meet the Lady Bobcats--each one of the players struck with determination, motivation, and focus. Composed of different skills and personality, the Lady Bobcats came together as one in order to complete their season with a strong finish. The girls practice for two hours daily. "All together as a team we know that working together is the key to accomplishing our goals for the season," says Taylor Kerxton. Kerxton also states, "Coach McCaslin works hard on unifying the team so we all work as one to win."

The team continues to strengthen and improve through hard practice and teamwork. Under the leadership of Coach McCaslin, the Lady Bobcats continue to strive for what is rightfully their's, a win. Coach McCaslin states, "I love them. I try not to focus too much on wins or losses this year. The girls work hard and have improved greatly since the beginning of the school year. They are excited to see how the group grows."

Girls Junior Varsity Basketball

The JV Lady Bobcats had a terrific season this year as the girls worked together to improve their skills on the court. Sophomore Anna Johnston says,"This season we came together as a team and brought it on the court. It was fun getting to know and play with these girls." During Practice, Mariah Robinson can recall Coach Diggs saying several times, "Box out, square up, get the rebound, take your time and don't rush. We're out here having fun!" to keep the girls focused. Galissia Cause adds, "This season we all worked hard through our tough games. Teamwork and determination is what led us to our victories and kept us together as a family." As the season came to a close the JV Lady Bobcats ended with a record of 12-2.

Girls Freshmen Basketball

The Freshman Lady Bobcats dominated every time they stepped foot on the court. At practice, they gave it their all and when game day came around they proved that the hard work paid off. Freshman Amy August says, "This season was one to remember not only because we played as a team, but because we were one big family." As the season came to a close, the girls still remained dedicated to winning and improving each and every technique while playing against their opponent. Freshman Larissa Bierly adds, "This season was great! My teammates were so nice and everyone really came together. I cant wait for next year!" The girls were undefeated and ended with a record of 6-0.

To achieve this victory the Lady Bobcat Dancers all work together as a team. As stated by sponsor Melissa Golden,"Being a member of the BHS dance team is a commitment. The Battlefield gymnastics team used dedication and hard work to accomplish big things this year. The team consists of fifteen girls who share one common goal and that's to be the best they can be. Junior Amanda Grimm says, "I love our team, we're like sisters. Instead of fighting, we support one another. This year is going to be great."

With the girls' positive attitudes and motivation, they plan to do great at every meet and hopefully accomplish being the best. The girls accomplished their first goal by winning the Cedar Run District Championship. Junior Alex Fairbanks summed it up as, "Gymnastics is a lot more than skill, it is determination, teamwork, and commitment."

Boys and Girls Indoor Track

Contrary to what you may think, indoor track is not an indoor sport. The dedicated track runners push through cold wind and weather from November to February. Matt Moser says, "I'm not only competing with others, but I'm also competing with myself." Claire Olsen loves the people because they are like a family. They have to get plenty of sleep, stretching and carbs the night before a meet to reach their full potntial.

Track runners love running relays because they work with other people to make a small team. Sophomore Michael McCormack adds, "When I'm running in a meet, it brings a feeling of pride. I just love being out there."

Jeff Michaelis and Mallory Trowbridge are the indoor track coaches. Noel Wragg brags about his coach, "Michaelis is dedicated to track--he is at every practice and meet even though he runs his own business."

Swimming 2010 - 2011

"Either You Sink Or You Swim"

Battlefield's swim team is well known for their outstanding achievements. In his first year of coaching, Coach Jay Thorpe, led the Bobcats to another successful season.

This year's team consisted of sixty-five very dedicated swimmers. The boys team won all five of the regular season meets and the girls team finished with only one loss. Both teams won the 2011 Cedar Run District meet, sending the largest team in BHS history to Regionals.

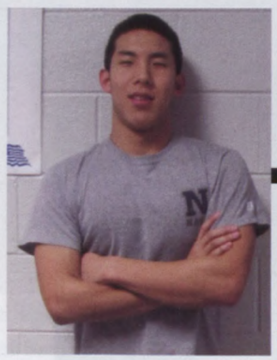

The Bobcats did a wonderful job at Regionals. The boys team finished in fifth place and the girls team finished in eight place, sending eight swimmers to states.

At states, both of the teams did very well. Overall, the Bobcats were once again a dominant swim team in the district, region, and the state. Way to go Bobcats!

While every sport takes dedication, the Battlefield wrestling team is one of the hardest working teams at school. Spending long days after school hard at work in the weight room, on the track and bleachers, or in the wrestling room behind the gym, they train for their next meet. Over winter break the practice didn't stop, and the Battlefield boys continued winning in their fall/winter campaign

On December 29th, the boys came in 3rd place out of 24 teams at the "Battle of the Bridge" match.

This is Coach Shaffer's first year running the wrestling program and he has taken this team all the way to the top. Keep up the great work, boys!

Warm weather, tank tops/cut-off t-shirts, shorts, country music playing. It was finally softball season again and all the girls were ecstatic about it. February 21 was the first day of tryouts. All the girls that came out were determined to get into the softball program. The gloomy, cold weather did not stop them. Everyone gave their all and Coach Joe Schelzo saw that. "Our program is very strong," he added.

This was the year to prove that the softball team was at its best. Ever since 2008, the varsity team has made it to the state playoffs but has yet to claim the state champion title. All of the player's minds are on one thing, the state ring.

On March 25th, the team headed down to Richmond to play in a two day tournament. Going into this, their record was 2-1. Coach Schelzo had been to this tourney seven times before, never going undefeated or even winning the entire thing. It was going to be a tough road, competing against teams that they have lost to in prior years. That did not stop the Bobcats. They did not take any team for granted. They all played like it was their last game, there were two outs each and every play, it was the last inning and they are losing. Seniors Miranda Kemp and Bailey Liddle both pitched phenomenally, striking out countless hitters. The defense behind them held their ground not allowing many runners to score. The offense also helped out, doing an effective job knocking enough runners in to win each game. The Bobcats went 4-0, winning the championship title.

Many girls have grown up together on the softball field, learning each others strengths and weaknesses. Throughout all their softball careers, they have competed with and against one another, so being on the same team is a poetic end to their high school experience. There are 10 returning players, seven of which are seniors. Joining those 10 are two new juniors and one freshman. All of the players have huge potential to go a long way and they hope it is enough to win it all this year.

Girls Varsity Lacrosse

The definition of Battlefields Girls' Varsity Lacrosse is determination. The players lives revolve around lacrosse from the end of February till the begging of June. The girls practice six days a week rain or shine. They do this with the dedication of both the players and the coaches. One player Sara Jacobson states "Our coach is 100% behind us and pushes us to be the best we can be, on and off the field." The whole team has a lot of potential and talent, its not just one player and that is what makes the Battlefield Girls Lacrosse stand out. All the determination, heart, and hustle have paid off. The girls Lacrosse team beat their biggest rival Loudoun Valley this year! With all their motivation and being so close as a team the girls are determined to have an astounding season and win states this year!

*New year, new season..*determination is all thats on their mind for battlefield's JV girls lacrosse team. From hard conditioning, to interval and sprints, and gauntlet drills, these lady bobcats trained hard and are ready for any challenges. With a new district and schools this year, it is hard to predict how they will play at their games against other new schools this season. These girls are very well rounded with so much spirit. They have so much adrenaline and determination when they step on to the field.

"Our goal this season is for everyone to do their best as a team." Sophomore Captain Kaleah Dobransky explained. So far this season, the girls only played one game and unfortunately loss by 3 points against Langley. "We only played one game so far and that was against a team thats one of the best in Virginia." Sophomore Captain Annmarie Lutz told us. " As captains, we try to motivate our teammates during practices by telling them good job and your lookin good to get them hype so they can be more prepared for the next game."

Boys' Varsity Lacrosse

"If you only had one day to play how hard would you play?"

"Champions don't ignore pain, they accept it." Coach Marsh shared this with the team before the season even started. The boys started conditioning early in the year to get ready for the 2011 season.

Teamwork and friendship also helped the lacrosse team be successful. A common goal for the players was beating their rival, Osbourn Park, which they did 11-8. "It was awesome. Nothing else just awesome!" Coach Marsh said about the win.

You may hear the players talk about 'Flow'. Flow can be two things: the hair hanging out the back of the helmet or their attitude towards lacrosse. The more flow, the better the player.

Senior Joey Hanson says 'You look the way you play'. And the Varsity boys' lacrosse team plays to win. "Long hair, don't care"!

Boys' Junior Varsity Lacrosse

The JV boys' lacrosse team is determined to have a undefeated record this year. They practice vigorously everyday after school, including Saturday mornings. The only thing standing in their way of that goal is their biggest opponent; Osbourn Park. " OP is our biggest rival for not JV, but also the varsity team." Sophomore Captain Bucky Potter said. The team hopes to lead on the tradition of the "Lax Bros" and keep their reputation of Battlefield lacrosse. When asked about how to keep the motivation going if they ever lose a game, Potter says, " We don't plan on losing." Without a doubt, these boys have all the potential in the world to get to where they need to. They've got the attitude and team work to represent the Battlefield Bobcats.

To be a good soccer player, you need to be committed and know the basics of soccer. For this team of 14, all these boys have exceeded the basics skills of soccer. Each boy brings their own individual skills to the team, and all together, the boys are unstoppable. All boy's take soccer very seriously, practicing for months before try outs to keep their chance to go to states again alive.

The boys' commitment is shown off by starting their season ranked as 13th in the nation. As their season progresses, the boy's work harder and harder to achieve their goal of winning states. The boys always stay positive, and that is one of the many reasons they all work so well together. Senior, Troy Allaire who plays midfielder, says "Even though there's a goalie, doesn't mean you can't score."

Becoming One..

Soccer is a sport that requires a great deal of team unity. A soccer team has to become a family to be able to communicate and work effectively with each other to defeat their opponents. The Battlefield Bobcats girls varsity soccer team has just that. With their teammates ranging from freshman to seniors they all come together as one and become a family for the sake of their season's record and also to make friendships that can last forever. The girls varsity team is currently undefeated and is hoping to keep up their good work and be unbeatable the entire season. Tessa Klumpp says that the thing that helps the girls focus most before games is music. Music is very important to getting the team in the right state of mind and also helps the girls concentrate on what they came there to do, which is win.

TEAM WORK

For this years JV Girls soccer team, hard work has been key. For these girls, they achieve success through the ACC's (Accountability, Commitment and Class) which Coach Coughlin makes sure every girl knows before the season officially begins.

Coach Coughlin also makes sure the girls understand teamwork with this quote, "The game is not about one person, it's about the whole team!" Through great teamwork and great captains—which the girls chose themselves--they have achieved a successful season and gained excellent leadership skills!

New energy and strength allowed for great achievements for tennis during the 2011 season. Tennis requires quick reflexes an agility to become a truly competitive player. In order to be as good as our Battlefield players, it takes time and practice. Our players have worked hard and are ready for the up coming season. With awesome coaches, Mr. Davis and Ms. Ward, anything is possible. They push their athletes to do their best. Even if the Bobcats lose a match, they can count on their coaches to help them get back up and give it 110% every time.

Outdoor Track

Strength. Speed. Agility. Endurance.

Outdoor Track is perfect for many different talents. Events range from the shot put, which uses leg and arm strength, to quick sprints, which uses leg muscle and cardiovascular strength. With such variety, each individual has their own goals to work towards. However, when asked about the team's goals, Coach Michaelis said, "We try to get the athletes to hit a certain time for personal record, obtain a qualifying mark for post season, or just try to win the race/meet." Without a doubt, the athletes work hard to complete their goals. A handful of the athletes have gone above and beyond, and broke their personal records, as well as school records. These record breakers include: Marina Capalbo- 4x800, DMR & 1000m run, Jasmine Hill- 4x400, DMR & 500, Johnna Dominick- high jump, Virginia Hill- 4x800, 4x400, 500, Ellison Grove- 4x800, 4x400, DMR, 500, Nicole Carter- 4x800, DMR, 3200, and Shelby File- 4x400.

STATE CHAMPIONS!

Their Journey There...

The week before the state championship, the players were anxiously awaiting their chance at states, a first for the Battlefield High school football team. Battlefield, ranked 3rd on Massey, would be playing Hermitage, ranked 10th. Massey had Battlefield picked to win 28-14. To many of the players, that meant nothing. Junior, Andrew Smith said, "it doesn't matter because on any give play, anybody can win the game." Senior Cedric Agyeman said, "Predictions don't mean anything. We weren't predicted to make it this far. We have to go out there on Saturday and give it all we've got to make sure we win." Sophomore, Nick Newman said he personally likes to be the underdogs. He likes when people under estimate the team. He said it gives them more hype to play and show people that they can beat anyone. Coach Cox, as well as many of the other players, think the losses, in the regular season, to Hylton and Osborn, had a positive effect. Coach Cox said, "The players realized they needed to work and nothing would come easy." Clearly, the hard work paid off. The excitement, for the team, as well as family, friends, and fans, is overwhelming. Coach Cox said, "The joy of coaching is seeing the players have success." He also said he was most excited to see the "kids experiencing success at something they love." Playing in Battlefields first ever state championship, at a college stadium, is a huge deal for the varsity football team. Darion Duncan is most excited about having the chance to go out on top. That's especially a big deal for the graduating seniors because they have been dreaming about this since freshman year. However, one freshman, gets to live that dream. When asked what, from this experience, is he going to take with him, Brandon Whaley said, "I will never forget it and I'll tell any of the uprising varsity players there is nothing like it. If you ever get there, play your butt off and it will all pay off."

The State Championship

On Saturday, December 12, the 2010-2011Battlefield Varsity Football team won Battlefield's, first ever, STATE CHAMPIONSHIP! The team had a full day of events. The day started off with throwing between receivers and quarterbacks. After, the boys ate a breakfast, served up by the football moms, followed by the team meeting, before the boys headed out to the buses with a mini pep rally awaiting them outside. Once they arrived at UVA, they headed to the locker room then headed out for warm ups before the game.

The game started off on a good defensive foot. The Battlefield's defense didn't let Hermitage complete the first three passes of the game. On the second, offensive drive, junior, Andrew Smith, got the honor of scoring Battlefield's first touchdown in a state championship. Smith said, "As soon as Swingle called the play, I told him to pass it to me. I knew I'd be wide open." The 30 yard pass was thrown by sophomore, Ryan Swingle, making the score 7-0, in the first quarter. In the second quarter, Swingle threw a 38 yard pass to senior, Jason Hoepker, making the score 14-0 after Hoepker kicked the extra point. Jason said, "I never thought I'd get the chance, so I was pretty stoked." In the third quarter, Hermitage scored their only touchdown of the game, when their quarterback Brandon Riddick got in a 6 yard run. At the end of the third quarter, the score would be 14-7, with Battlefield ahead by a touchdown. Battlefield's senior quarterback, Devon Green, would start off the fourth quarter with a 10 yard pass to senior Turner Meeks, for a touchdown. Meeks said, "It was an incredible feeling to score, such an adrenaline rush, but I was really just glad to help the team out and start to seal the victory." Later, in the fourth quarter, Hermitage quarterback, Brandon Riddick, threw a pass that was intercepted by Battlefield senior, Bobo Beathard, and ran in 35 yards for a touchdown, putting an exclamation on the game. The extra point might not have counted, but that didn't stop Battlefield from capturing the title as Virgina AAA, Division 6, STATE CHAMPIONS!

What makes us...

Scholars

Scholastics

During our four years of high school, time can never seem to go by fast enough. But through these halls and on the fields we create the high school memories we will carry with us throughout our lives. With the friends we will never forget, the after school clubs, helpful teachers, coaches and counselors... these are the things and people that mold us into the people we are, and will become.

Throughout this section are the after school clubs, classroom experiences, and honor societies that demonstrate our hard work, goals and skills we have developed throughout high school. Thanks to our persistent teachers and sponsors that encourage us to reach our goals and beyond, we are able to see the progress we have made. They spend personal time developing relationships with us so that we are able to succeed, and we cannot thank them enough. THIS is what makes Battlefield students scholars.

English

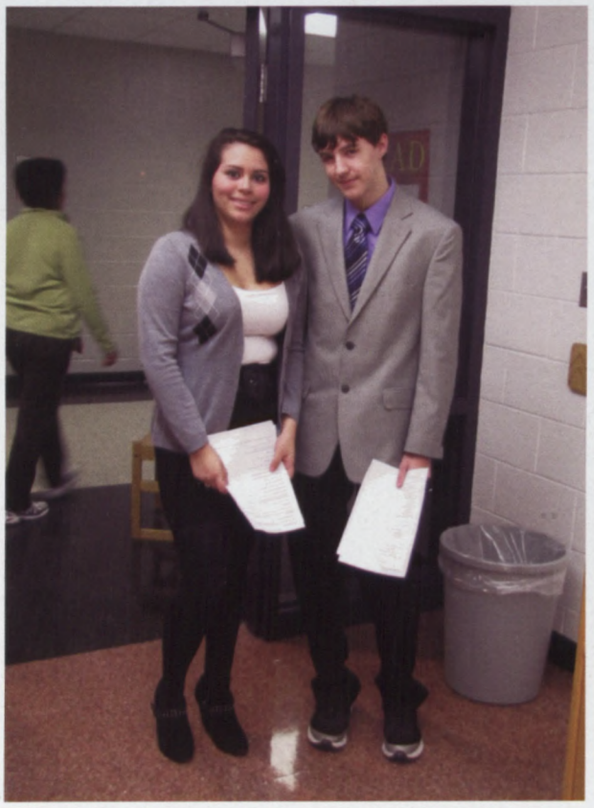

One of the goals of the English teachers of Battlefield High School is to prove to their students that English is more than just words on a page. Literature, writing, speaking -- they are all intertwined in our daily lives. The English teachers have the daunting task of making such a commonly dreaded subject fun and interesting, whether it's through "rapping" poetry or delivering a funeral speech for Julius Caesar.

One of the highlights of the English curriculum is the Business unit presented in tenth grade. Students are taught the art of writing an effective cover letter and resume and are then given the opportunity to be interviewed by members of the community and administration for a hypothetical job.

Students come away from this activity, and others, by seeing that English, whether they like the class or not, is overflowing with lessons they will learn and keep with them for the rest of their lives.

English Honor Society

The English Honor Society is a privileged group of students who succeed in their English classes. Many people join EHS because they have a great appreciation for literature, newspapers, television productions, yearbook and succeed in their English classes.

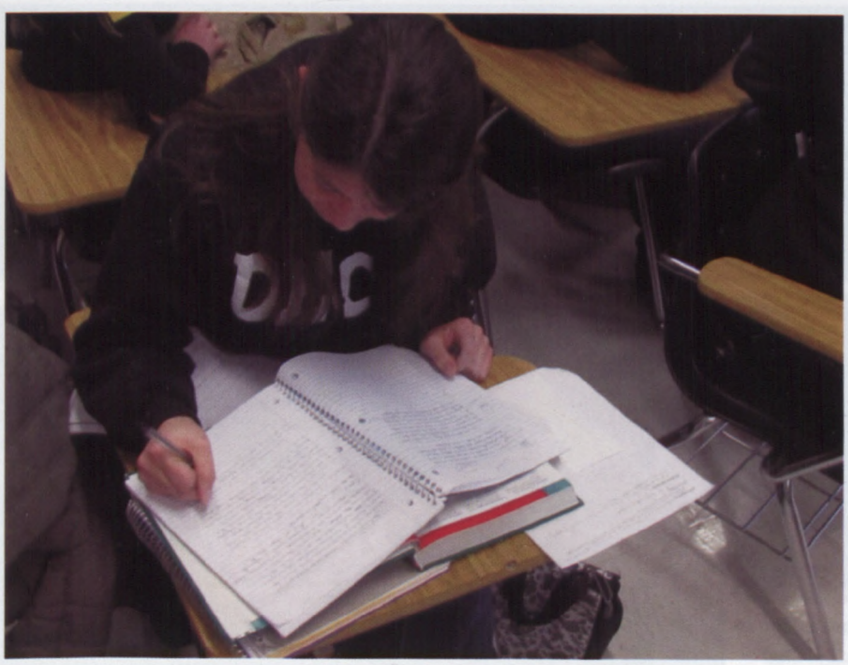

All the meetings are held in room 1100 on the third Thursday of every month. During the first meeting of the year, the members elected officers - Emily Powell as President and Lily Park as Vice President. Over the year, they plan to hold book drives and read to elementary school students. They also will be tutoring students in a Writing Lab, bring awareness to Read Across America (in honor of Dr. Seuss' birthday), and other English related events.

EHS is only open to seniors who are in English 12 and have a 3.5 or higher grade point in their class. Because of the love and dedication these students have, it is not surprising to see many of them pursue a career in literature or publications after they graduate high school.

Charles Drey

Above: A member of English Honor Society finishes English work before the meeting begins.

"English Honor Society is different from other clubs because we focus on communicating with all age groups in English based service. For example, we're going to do reading buddies with elementary school children this year and also have help sessions with English students who have trouble understanding assignments, essays, etc. at Battlefield. Our club is filled with people who have a love for English and the desire to help the community. Most clubs are based upon getting the most hours in the least amount of time, but I think EHS is a club where we all have a bond on one subject matter and want to do the best of our abilities to benefit others."

Bobcats Off Broadway

The drama kids at Battlefield High School were taught by Mrs. Bellino that the definition of Theatre was to suspend one's belief. Drama Club brings together all types of individuals and students to a group that does not judge. Everyone is welcomed. This point was proved by Allison Michelli who says, "Everyone was really welcoming and I became closer friends with people that I was already friends with. It give us a time to bond while doing something fun."

As a whole, the Thespians of Bobcats Off Broadway are united as one. Behind the scenes, the "techies" are hardworking and diligent. They never say no and are always willing to do whatever is needed in order to make each set believable. While out on the main stage, the actors keep up with their parts in the play and put together an amazing show. However, while people usually have their set roles, they all help each other out. "Drama comes together as a team" says Hillary Costello who goes on to say "...expressing multiple personalities can be more important than a simple smile."

This drama club is like a family. Everything they do is based upon everyone; not just one person. Every sport or activity may say this, but with drama club you must work together in order to put together a show. This way you bond.

Anyone who is not apart of this amazing Theatrical experience who loves to sing, dance, act or into all of the technical aspects, should really consider joining next year. You will make long life friends and an inseparable bond.

Journalism in a great class to take for student interested in informing others of important news and even displaying opinions in order to inform the public. Students chose popular topics, both local and national, and put together Battlefield's newspaper for the students to stay involved and be informed. Outside of the newspaper, the class coordinates Open Mic nights where student come and share their musical talents, which are the recapped in the paper! The class also studies vocabulary, learn style rules, and how to write certain types of articles as opposed to regular essays. It is a very educational and interactive class that only requires an interest in journalism.

Tori Carpenter

Once a month (budget willing), Journalism tries to provide a newspaper every month for the student body to stay in the loop with local and national news.

Above: Students put their names next to the stories they want to write about and do research on the subjects to provide a detailed and often humorous column.

With such a small class, Journalism becomes more of a family. They have to closely interact to make one united paper for the school to enjoy and remember.

Right: Seniors Caitlyn Cuilik and Katie Edwards embrace each other with the joys of Journalism! "It's cool to write stories that are different from normal news stories, Says Caitlyn, "It's fun to inform the student body about things that go on in our community."

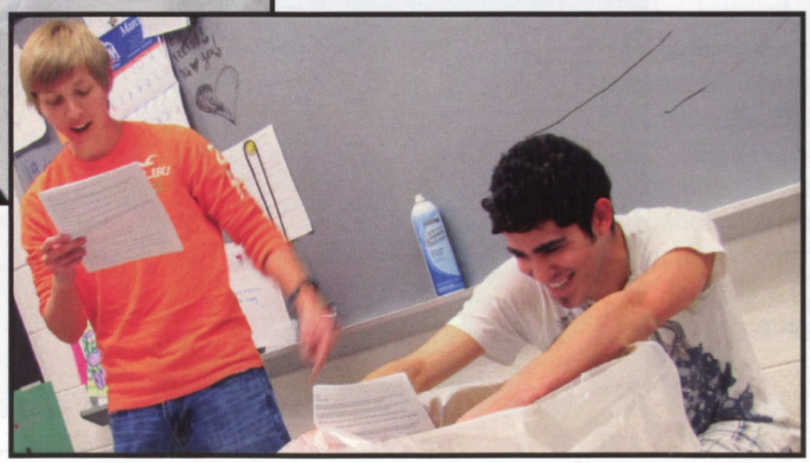

Creative Writing

Between the battle of good and evil, between the journeys to faraway lands and mighty heroes and heroines, there lie two sections of Creative Writing!! Their teachers, Ms. Chabot and Ms. Brever, have similar hopes for their classes and they love to teach Creative Writing. When asked what they wanted their students to gain, Ms. Chabot replied simply, "A love of Writing. I want them to write for the rest of their lives." Ms. Brever added, "I hope that every student, regardless of their impression of this class, continues writing and develops and appreciation of English; and foremost, I hope it forces them to recognize their own talents they maybe hadn't discovered!"

Creative writing emphasizes freedom to write to the best of one's ability and possibly, to be able to develop the skills needed to make each student great future authors! Mrs. Brever put it this way, "Every class is different. The class has a lot of different endless possibilities. It also is great to watch kids who are serious about writing grow as writers." For the students, they thrive on the freedom to do what they want with the pieces they create. When asked what a favorite aspect of the class was, junior Erin Moller said, "The complete freedom to do what I want to do with an assignment and being able to run with it." What should a student who is interested in taking Creative Writing expect? Colleen Ratigan, a senior summed it up best by saying, "It's hard, like a boot camp for writing, but it's really creative and a fresh start to develop your writing style!" With interesting assignments like going outside during the first snow to write a myth on how snow first began, to a Literary Café, to the new up and coming literary magazine--these creative writing classes are unique, inspiring and quite enjoyable. For these classes, theres more freedom to teach, more excitement from the students and a passion for writing.

The Yearbook is no joke. Constantly on the computers, spending time during and after school to take pictures and get quotes... this class doesn't slow down for a hot second! The class was divided in two this year and even with all the help, Yearbook is always chaos. All year spent gathering memories and personal thoughts into one book that students can carry with them the rest of their lives is a heavy responsibility that is both exciting and stressful. But through the rush and the confusion, this yearbook came out better than ever thanks to the help of dedicated students and a persistent teacher, Ms. Hackett. Students became close within the small space of the lab, and are proud to have made a tribute to the 2010-2011 year!

DB8 & debate and

Not only is Battlefield High School is known for its many sports teams and it's academically inclined students, but the Debate and Forensics team here at Battlefield High School is nationally known. This year the debate team won the overall district sweepstakes, and the forensics team took 3 district titles. These accomplishments moved over 15 competitors to regional competitions. At regionals for forensics Battlefield took home 2 first place titles from Sabrena Fary and Michelle Kim, qualifying them for the state competition at Harrisonburg High School. Battlefield has held the debate district title for four years now, and it does not look like it's slowing down. At the debate regional competition Battlefield finished with an all around sweepstakes regional win. The team had 1st place finishes from Mariah Wilkins in Lincoln Douglas and Nicole Dierolf in 2nd place Lincoln Douglas. Congress took a 2nd place title by Rebecca Wescott, 3rd place by Natalie Giotta, and 5th place from Craig Manning. The policy team of Christian Maddox and Artie Jurgenson took 1st place, and Nick Bond and Hoyoung Lee took first in Public Forum. Their successful wins qualified these individuals to move on to states which was held at Liberty University. This year the team doubled with promising members whom are intelligent, eloquent, and more enthusiastic than ever. Battlefield's Debate and Forensics Coach Mr. William Florer has been behind the team's success for six years now and he quotes, "It is exhilarating to work with intelligent and interested students on issues of importance and complexity." With all the talent on the team the years to come look promising for the Debate and Forensics team.

MATH3MATICS

We're irrational, but well rounded!

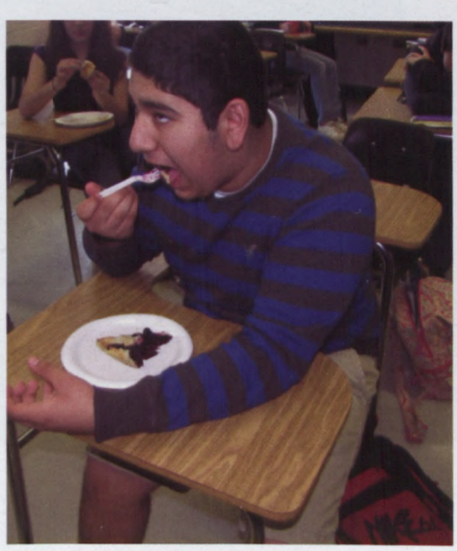

Math. The thought of this one subject can either conjure up pleasant thoughts of fractions and long division or bring even the strongest man down to his knees begging for mercy. At Battlefield the Math department is chock full of teachers knowledgeable in a variety of Math subjects, including Algebra I all the way up to AP Calculus BC. The smell of pencil erasers and the tapping of calculator keys resonate from the math hallway inviting all students to come join in on one of the oldest most complex subjects. March 14 Pi Day brought a hint of sweetness to the math department, when students brought in a delectable variety of pies to share with their classmates. This comical pun on the number pi (3.14159) allowed students to not only indulge but also learn about the number pi, which is used quite frequently in Geometry classes. Despite the groans of students saying, "When will I ever use this in real life?" math is a skill which plays quite a prevalent role in everyday life. As Senior Natalie Giotta put it so kindly to one of her AP Government classmates, "How do you think bridges stay up?" Math is everywhere and you just might be surprised at what it can actually do. So keep taking those math classes and who knows where that "mathemagic" may take you...

Science

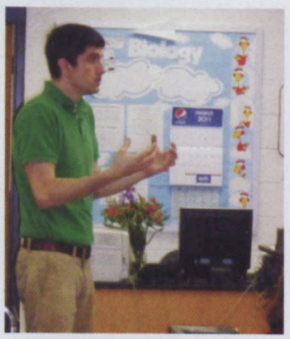

Science is a hands-on and interactive class that helps students better understand the way the world around them works.

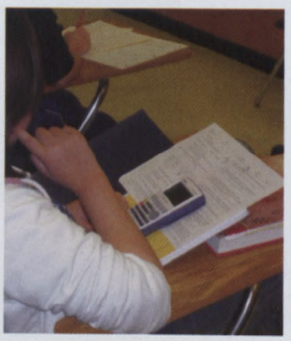

At Battlefield, Science is more than just a core class. The science classes that students can take are: Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry. Students can also take more detailed classes including: Oceanography, Astronomy, Physics, and AP Biology. In every science room, there is a lab area where students are able to do more hands on activities. With these more hands on activities, students are better able to understand what they are learning about.

Many BHS science teachers are involved in science-related activities outside of the classroom. For example, Mr. Hollenberger and Mrs. Thumser sponsor the BHS Environmental Club.

The science teachers at Battlefield love teaching science and make a fun learning environment for their students. The way the Bobcat teachers teach science helps the students at Battlefield learn how to use science in their everyday lives and discover science happening right before their eyes.

REDUCE-REUSE-RECYCLE

Senior Club president Erin Irwin

The Environmental Club is filled with passionate members who want to make the earth a better place day by day. This year's president, senior Erin Irwin, leads the members at every Thursday meeting after school to go out and collect all the recycling boxes, which are placed in every single classroom here at Battlefield. To our big surprise, as a school, we've made a huge impact on having the bins placed in our classrooms. "Ever since we started the club, we made a huge progress throughout the years by recycling," said senior Joanna Dressel. The club also cleans up streams and parking lots outside the school area to make our school a nice and environmentally friendly learning place.

Outside of school, the club participates in hikes and other community services to help not only the school but also our local community. These students strive to protect our school and make a difference. Way to go, Bobcats!

The Global Operations club is one that is unique to our school as it was founded just last year by junior, Jordan Soriano. He wanted to create the club because he wanted to make a change and a difference while allowing other students to see the kind of changes they can make themselves.

This small group's main concern is making a difference not only in their community, but around the world as well. The G.O. club's main focus for the year is helping to fundraise for the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention because that is a big problem around the globe. The group has come up with many unique ideas for this project ranging from a bake sale to a 5K walk. The money raised from these events will be donated directly to the AFSP for them to put towards stopping these suicides.

They also took a field trip to Walter Reed Army Medical Center to visit the recovering American soldiers in their time of need. The group plans to continue their hard work next year and hopefully, in the process, recruit more members as enthusiastic about making a difference as these Bobcats are!

Social Studies

History is a major part of life; past, present and future. The Social Studies department focuses on giving students a better understanding of Americas history, geography, government and world history as well. These concepts develop political standings and values among peers which will make them interested, active members of society. Our government plays a role in every aspect in our lives and students learn to understand and interact with the thoughts and motions towards developing our government. These tools learned in Social Studies are ones that we will carry with us throughout our lives.

Psychology and sociology are also a part of history. Psychology classes explain the way the mind works and how people think and develop theories. These understandings promote deep thinking towards future goals and aspirations towards contemplating the mind further. Sociology is the study of people, their relationships and society. And with learning how past cultures and experiences has develops the social lives of Americans, we can pursue new ways of developing our culture through this class. Bottom line is, we prepare for the future by studying our past. Social Studies classes and devoted teachers help us into adulthood by preparing us for our future.

MODEL UNIT

In Model UN, students step into the shoes of ambassadors from UN member states to debate current issues on the organization's vast agenda. Student "delegates" in Model UN prepare draft resolutions, plot strategy, negotiate with supporters and adversaries, resolve conflict, and navigate the UN's rules of procedure - all in the interest of mobilizing "international cooperation" to resolve problems that affect countries all over the world.

The Student Council Association (S.C.A.) is established to represent the interests of all Battlefield students and to encourage successful choices by our diverse student and community population. This year, the goal of the S.C.A. was to create tradition within the school. The S.C.A. officers and delegates have been successful in accomplishing these tasks.

Katie Agnos, S.C.A. President, wanted each class to be remembered so she came up with the idea of making paw prints leading to the football stadium. They hope the tradition carries on from year to year, making Battlefield more school spirited. The S.C.A. is all about uniting the school and establishing school spirit while influencing positive behavior. May the tradition stay alive!

They have also brought Easter to the children at SERVE and volunteered at the Childrens' Wellness Festival. Being very involved in the community as well as national issues, the club has rang the bell outside of Giant for Salvation Army and wrote letters to the President regarding the genocide in Darfur. Last year the received the Presidential Citation from the International Rotary Clubs, which they hope to receive this year in the Spring.

PEER DIVERSITY

The Peer Diversity Group at Battlefield is a branch of the World of Difference Institute- a program established and run by the Anti-Defamation League. Their members have been trained on anti-bias education and diversity training. Peer Trainers seek to help all BHS students recognize bias and the harm it inflicts on individuals and society, explore the value of diversity, improve intergroup relations and combat racism, anti-Semitism and all forms of prejudice and bigotry.

Peer Trainers are specifically selected to go throughout the school teaching underclassmen ways to fight indifference among peers. Throughout the year, peer trainers go through workshops learning techniques of concurrence and acceptance and to incorporate it in their teachings and activities with the underclassmen.

The skills training and methods learned by peer trainers is something that will benefit them during, and past high school. And definitely looks good on a college application!

SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP, SERVICE, AND CHARACTER

National Honor Society

Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other.
-John F. Kennedy

National Honor Society is a community service, leadership, and academics based honor society. Its purpose is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulate a desire to render service, promote worthy leadership, and encourage the development of character in students of Battlefield. NHS sponsors tutoring sessions after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays where members offer free help to Battlefield students in all areas of study. During the holiday season, members collected various toiletries, entertainment items, and packages of food to send over to American soldiers in the Middle East. Battlefield Buddies offers a chance for NHS members read to children at Alvey Elementary School. Members also volunteered their time to the local Elks Lodge in Manassas on Bingo Night. By volunteering, they helped raise money for the Elk Lodge's various charities and programs, such as their annual Youth Camp program where they sponsor less fortunate children for summer camp.

Students are inducted into the National Honor Society in the spring of their sophomore or junior year, after demonstrating that they fulfill the requirements for membership: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Members must maintain a 3.7 GPA throughout their membership and complete 60 hours of community service by graduation. The various service opportunities offered by National Honor Society and its rigorous academic standards allow members to give back to the community and foster within themselves scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

Latin & German

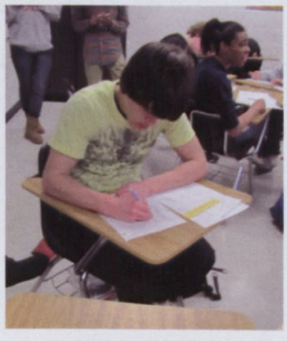

Mrs, Yount teaches her Latin 1 students the basics

Thanks to Ms Yount, Latin is anything but a dead language to Battlefield students. Latin is the basis for many English vocabulary as well as in other languages. Senior Emily Davis agrees. "I took the class to help me on the SAT", she says. And it has obviously helped! Latin improves students vocabulary and widens their understandings in sophisticated language. The class focuses on the ancient origins of the language while exploring translations and grammar comprehension. Latin classes use comparative techniques to further their knowledge of the English language as well.

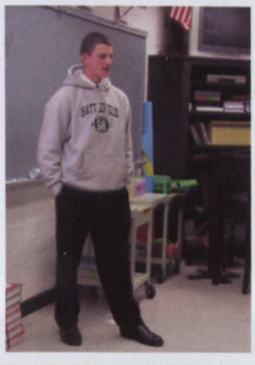

German is also this way where it is often considered an "inactive language". However, German is not as unpopular as some may think. With the help of Ms Farren, students get a full German learning experience in the classroom. They learn the cultures and history as well as the language and its origins. These two languages aid students in broadening their spectrum of communication and perception.

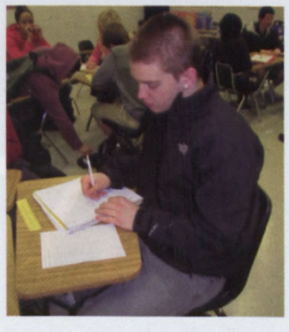

Tori Carpenter

The Latin and German Honor Societies are determined in the study and understanding of these languages to further students intelligence as well as reaching out to other students by offering tutoring. They practice in the verbal and literature aspects of these languages and through this, students are able to overcome language barriers locally and internationally.

HOLA! A second language is always helpful especially with such a diverse culture we have in America. And Spanish is among the most popular languages to learn. Students are encouraged to learn and speak the language in class, at home and anywhere they can! Knowing multiple languages not only helps you socially, but in the workplace as well, and in the community. In these classes students learn vocabulary, sentence structures and how to carry conversations with native speaking students. They learn to speak the pledge of allegiance, order at a restaurant, and explain directions as practice. Selected students are taking a trip abroad to Spain this summer to increase their experience and fluency in Spanish and will study the culture and architecture of native Spain and its people. The class provides insight and opportunity in learning a new culture and social understandings of Spanish and Hispanic history.

Bonjour!

Studying the French language offers many opportunities for students locally and internationally. The French Club and French Honor Society take many interactive trips to broaden their horizon of the French language. Things such as seeing CIRQUE DU SOLEIL, having cheese tastings, lunches at the Eiffel Tower Cafe, making Valentines Day cards in french, participating in the Folies Francaises and even taking a trip over the summer to Canada in Québec City and Montréal where French is spoken fluently among its citizens. On their trip they will study the language, its history and architecture as well as sampling the food and culture. Members are also active within the school. They offer French tutoring, helping other clubs with fund raising, cleaning the school to prepare for Homecoming, as well as celebrating holidays!

Students taking the class practice the language and French vocabulary in order to communicate in our diverse culture, as well as being prepared if visiting over seas. In the class, students participate in Foreign Language Week where they go into other foreign language classes and teach students a little bit of French. This outreach inspires students to lead and teach their peers of this extravagant language. French is everywhere! From Canada to Paris, students are encouraged to learn French and be proud to say to their friends, "bienvenu!"

Art

"Every artist dips his brush in his own soul, and paints his own nature into his pictures." –Henry Ward Beecher

Art allows for free expression and creativity. It is all around us in many shapes in form. At Battlefield there are many classes that budding artists can take to hone their skills. From Art I to AP Studio Art, there is a class for every skill level. There is a type of art that every person can find enjoyable: painting, sculpting, sketching, photography, and drawing. Through these modes of art a person can take a simple idea and turn it into a masterpiece. There is a large set of specialized skill that goes into art. Students this year have completed many projects including paper-mâché animals and fast food, collages, and clay pots. Many students sketch pictures of famous people or loved ones and decorate their sketch books with different adornments and drawings.

Co-sponsored by Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Graham NAHS meets every Thursday to participate in various art related activities. Started in 1978 by the National Art Education Association the purpose of NAHS is to inspire and recognize those students who have excelled in the visual arts. "NAHS strives to aid members in working toward the attainment of the highest standards in art areas, and to bring art education to the attention of the school and community." Battlefield Photography

Battlefield Orchestra 2010 2011

The Orchestra at Battlefield High School is a diverse group of talented students. There are four very talented classes, Intermediate, Concert, Advance and Chamber. In Orchestra everyone is important. Students play from small to large instruments ranging in different characteristics--the violin being the smallest, viola being medium, cello being large, and bass being the largest.

Director, Ms. Katy Thiele, has led the ochestra into many accomplishments. This year the annual event "Festival" was held at Battlefield, offering other orchestras to come to BHS to see how successful the Battlefield Orchestra department is. This was proven during festival when all performing groups from Battlefield received all 1's -- a Superior rating of performance. Also this year, the Battlefield Orchestra was given the honor of offering The Boston String Quartet (a nationally renowned group of string players) a home at BHS for performing their concert and letting the group come teach the class.

The 2010-2011 orchestra was extremely successful in showing the Battlefield community that they are no longer the "unknown group". Orchestra was able to shine in the spotlight.

"In starting the club, I heard about an empty kitchen in the school that no one uses, so I thought I would take advantage of it instead of just leaving it there to take up space. The school was supposed to have an intro to culinary arts class; however, the school does not provide one so this club also acts as a supplement to the class. I wanted to create an environment where people can learn how to cook, meet new people, serve the community, and have fun."

-President and Founder, Senior Tiffany Lee

What's Hot!

Culinary Club adds the SPICE to the Battlefield atmosphere! Being the first year this club has started at BHS, they have gotten to a great start. Culinary provided dinner to the Principals Advisory Council early March where parents, teachers, select students, and the administration get together to discuss current school related topics. Culinary Club is welcome to all students and no cooking experience is needed! The club is designed to develop kitchen skills, both safety and cooking methods, as well as inspire multi-cultural cooperation and understanding by sharing food. They have future plans to bring in a professional instructor to teach the students about kitchen knife skills and to create specialty dishes!

Being in any of these classes such as Fashion, Life Planning, Word Processing, Marketing, Child Development, Business management, Finance, etc., helps prepare you for real life situations. you also have the ability to participate in clubs like FBLA and DECA. Most of the classes construct activities and projects which students enjoy. Mrs. Adkins the teacher for Business Management, Business Law, and Personal Finance keeps her students busy with special activities like the Stock Market Game. Mr. Proctor's students learn how to use the Internet and develop programming applications. All of these classes could be the start of your future career.

A student at Battlefield High School would not be able to walk through the hallways without seeing a DECA poster supporting a charity. With over four hundred members Battlefield DECA is known for its superior involvement and enthusiasm about various charities. One of the four DECA supervisors for the school, Mrs. Amy Homan, said one way she keeps the membership growing is to do bigger and better events that showcase community service, social activities and competitiveness- that is what DECA is all about. This year, DECA members are raising money and also awareness for twelve different charities ranging from The Cancer Society to Muscular Dystrophy Association. Half way through the year, students have already raised over five thousand dollars to all be donated to charity. At the end of the year, Battlefield DECA plans to have held at least thirty different events. This year, at the district competition, Battlefield won sixty nine awards out of the one hundred and thirty seven available between seven schools. The competitions take place throughout the country. Members of DECA have the opportunity to travel from Norfolk, Virginia to Orlando, Florida. DECA is lead by a strong group of officers that are elected by fellow members. This club is a great way to get experience in becoming involved in your community.

Todays Students Tomorrows Teachers

Todays Students Tomorrows Teachers

TSTT is a program that prepares high school students wishing to pursue a career in education. Students are mentored throughout high school to college. This helps in their preparation for the educational field, most often as teachers. This program is one from PWC's "Growing Our Own" program that is being implemented to address the teacher shortage here in our county. Teachers mentor young students who are interested in becoming teachers. These students will be given a "jump start" at securing a job as a teacher in PWC when they go through the program. In addition, students can receive up to 50% tuition scholarships at participating colleges and universities. The program gives them standardized testing practice, provides tutoring, job shadowing, co-teaching opportunities, and provides assistance with college admissions through field trips and job fairs.

Members interact in conversations concerning college and education goals

Not only does this club offer mature insight into the world of teaching to aspiring young students, but through the eyes and helpful words of current teachers are these students able to grasp a high advantage going into college and towards a career in education. Members participate in tutoring, classroom observations, and preparation towards instructional teaching. The club took three field trips to local colleges to attend seminars, conferences and get a closer look into college and choosing a career towards education.

During their 4 years, TSTT students learned teaching techniques at monthly meetings, tutored outside of school in many different areas and grade levels, formally observed teachers in the classroom, and participated in a day of job shadowing. This year, members tutored Hebrew at their synagogue, Karate, and provided homework help for younger kids! This club offers many opportunities for outreach into the community through the goals of a higher education, and any student with similar interests and aspirations are more then welcome to join. No teaching experience is needed!

Health & Phys. Ed.

Plato once said, "lack of activity destroys the good condition of every human being, while movement and methodical physical exercise save it and preserve it." The HPE department and its teachers are committed to helping their students learn the skills to a healthier and happier lifestyle. Their job is rewarding, to say the least. They get to see students improve every day in areas that they never thought possible. Mr. John White, an HPEII, teacher says "the most rewarding part of my job is to see my students having so much fun while they learn." That's what HPE is all about, learning life skills in a different way, by physically doing them.

Carol Welch says "movement is the medicine for creating change in a person's physical, emotional, and mental states." Students at Battlefield are able to see and feel change in themselves and in others as their years of physical education and health progress. They move from learning about mental health, family relationships, nutrition, sports conduct, and numerous other things. To their second year, where they learn the rules of the road, CPR, first aid, and how to improve upon their sports conduct. These are lessons that Bobcats will take with them for the rest of their lives.

The years that we spend in HPE teach us many things, they will form new friendships, and they will teach many to believe that nothing is impossible. With hard work and determination students can achieve any goal that they set for themselves. The time that Bobcats spend in HPE will always be remembered.

Weightlifting

Each year, juniors and seniors are given the option of taking weightlifting as an elective class. The class fills up with athletes that want to stay in shape year round and other students that want to get into shape and learn how to train by lifting weights. The students warm up before class to get their muscles loose and ready to lift. Students are tested periodically to check and see where they are physically and to make sure they improve their strength. The goal of every weightlifter is to increase their max out weight and achieve a higher lifting ability. When students try to lift an amount they haven't done before, their peers encourage them and help spot them so that they may be successful and increase their strength while maintaining proper safety procedures. To pump them up, students bring music to blast while lifting. Christian Go says his favorite is hard rock and Grayson Matthews enjoys Linkin Park. Jordan Nicewonger is taking the class this year because he and his father lift together outside of school and he wanted to improve even more. He, along with most other students, are planning on taking the class next year, especially after seeing the improvement they have made since the beginning of the year. Even if students do not become weightlifting champions, they are pleased with the difference they see in their bodies throughout the year.

Criminal Justice

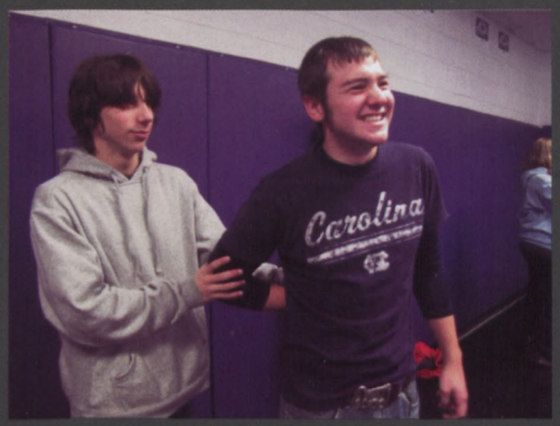

What makes us...tough!

How many people can say part of their grade consists beating up their teacher? Criminal Justice does. Mr. Evers believes the best thing about teaching Criminal Justice is the students. "I have such a wide range of kids that it makes things fun. There is never a shortage of questions, both very relevant and silly."

Criminal Justice is a fun thing to learn about because you have multiple real life videos that deal with crime or criminal justice. So making it fun isn't that difficult. While they they cover the major career choices in class, such as police, sheriffs, state police, and federal law enforcement, the possibilities are endless. Many do not realize that careers such as animal control, or probation officers are included, as well as crime lab technicians, information specialists, dispatchers and fire marshals are also ways you can go.

Team building is something that is an essential part of Criminal Justice. They have to work together to accomplish tasks in order to get to know and trust each other.

Air Force JROTC

In an effort to produce well-informed and helpful citizens, Battlefield's AFJROTC class encourages its students (cadets) to get involved in the community. This is one of the most interesting and fun aspects of the AFJROTC experience.

The AFJROTC program is grounded in the Air Force core values of "integrity first", "service before self", and "excellence in all we do". The curriculum emphasizes the Air Force heritage and traditions, the development of flight, applied flight sciences, military aerospace policies, and space exploration.

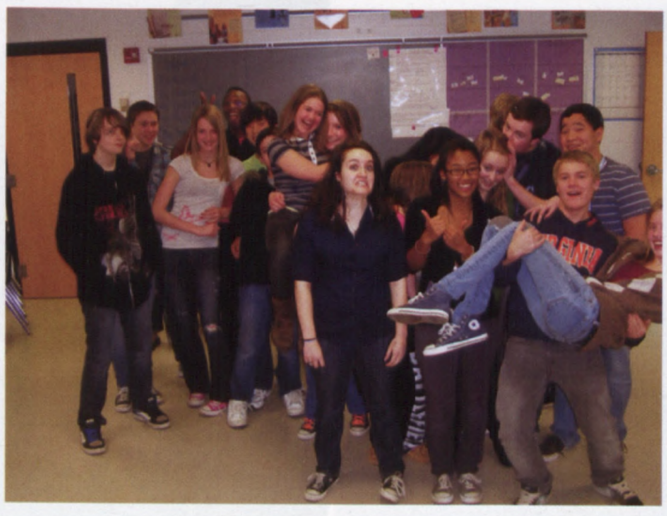

The cadets, let by Lt. Col. Cartee and SMSGT Shuler, are a large part of all of Battlefield's activities. They begin every athletic and school event with the presentation of the colors, assist as escorts during Back to School Night and just serve as role models for leadership among the student body. The AFJROTC cadets bring pride and honor to all of Battlefield in everything they do.

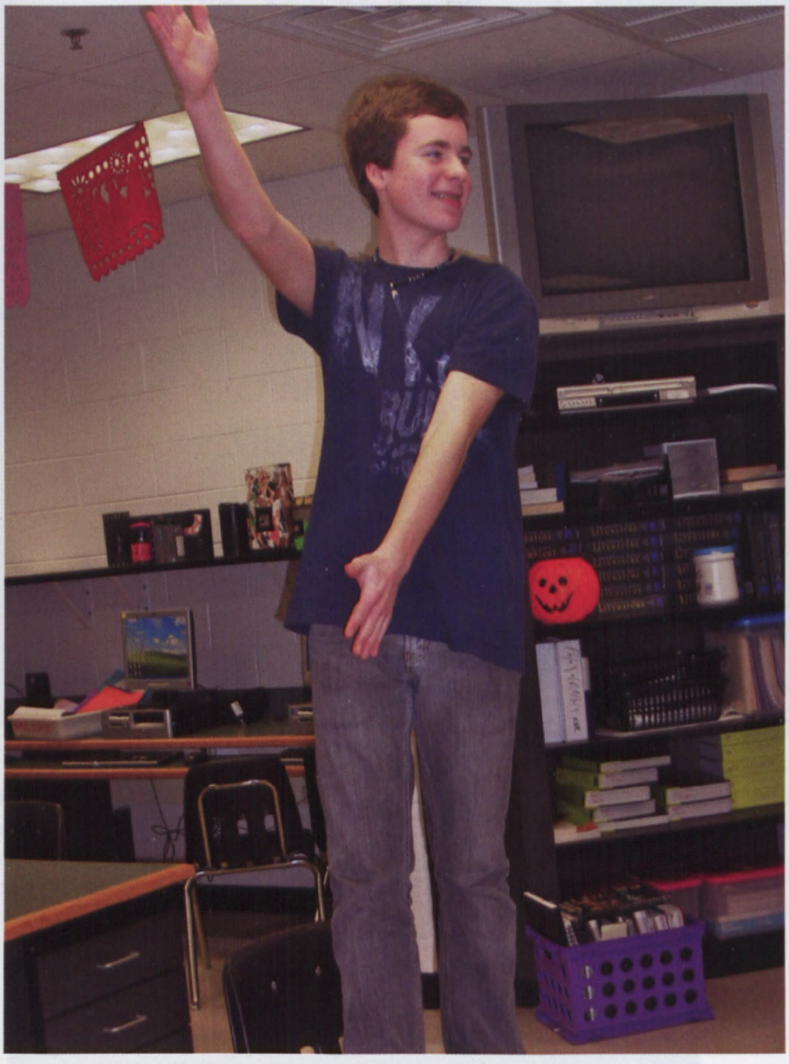

EDGE Club

Every club has certain characteristics that bring people together due to a common interest. Here at Battlefield students, who commit themselves to the E.D.G.E club (Evaluate Declare Growth Encounter) bond over a common faith while forming new relationships and creating a fun and positive atmosphere. Whether they are playing games, eating snacks, or learning a new lesson, Bobcats in EDGE Club are always inspired and willing to take on any new challenge. This year has been a year of growth and development for many of them and the club hopes to improve even more with each coming year.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

FCA: The Heart and Soul in Sports

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a club that allows students to meet with other Christian students and have a morning lesson, prayer, and a game. It is a student led group so students can get involved and take turns leading the morning meetings. After school, there are also meetings and parties so that the lessons can be more in depth and have more activities. FCA is involved in the community and serves the student body here at Battlefield as well. FCA has no requirements for membership and students are welcome at any time in the year.

Key Club

Key Club is a student led service organization that helps the local community. By helping out in the community they live in, the members of Key Club are enriching their lives as well as those around them. This year this organization helped out in many service projects around the Haymarket community.

This year, BHS Key Club has participated in many service projects such as the 2nd Annual Coat Drive, babysitting at local elementary schools, Tyler Elementary Bingo NightBabysitting, DCON, and many others.

Tri-M

Music Honor Society

Tri-,M the Music Honor Society, brings together fellow musicians once month to share their passion for music. Tri-M means Modern Music Makers and involves chorus, band, and orchestra students. In order to join Tri-M, a member must be a leader within their ensemble and maintain a 3.0 GPA. At meetings, members often perform musical pieces for each other. Tri-M provides an environment where fellow musicians can seek camaraderie and support.

Although not a service based honor society this school year, members participated in the Jeans for Teens drive sponsored by Aeropostale. Through this program, members donated gently used jeans to teens in homeless shelters around the nation. President Sara Firestone says her favorite part of Tri-M is that the music kids are all together and members are able to see and enjoy each others musical talents. Although members come from different music disciplines they celebrate one thing together...MUSIC and its power to inspire passion in people's lives.

Guitar Club

Rock On!

Over the years music has influenced teenagers in a huge way. The amount of talent is unbelievable and continues to grow through Guitar Club. The minute you walk into Guitar Club you automatically feel accepted and comfortable because they all share the same love for music. Kevin Engle quoted, "Come as you are," a Nirvana lyric relating to feeling accepted in Guitar Club. There are many different levels of guitar players, from beginners to experienced, no matter what level you play, you'll always be learning something new. The atmosphere in Guitar Club is relaxed and everyone does their own thing and has a great time. Kenny Emberton said "Guitar Club got people together, to get along, and to make new friends and it was a good experience." Not only is it a great place to rock out but a great way to meet new people and let loose.

ROBOTICS

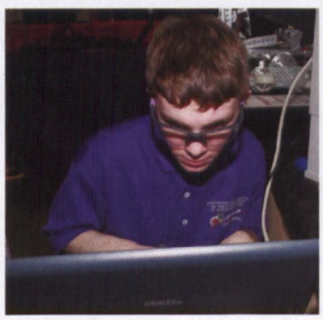

Our Battlefield robotics club is made from some of the most dedicated students. These students strive for success and are willing to put forth the effort. Their meetings on Tuesday last from the end of the day to eight at night. Not to mention they devote their Saturdays from seven AM to seven PM in order to bring pride to our school. Ever since their first year they have made it to Worlds. They placed third last year and qualified this year. This is only one of the many awards they have received. So far this year they have already won the Engineering Inspiration Award, been a Division Finalist, and the Woodie Flowers Award at Washington DC Regionals. Senior, Roya Rezadoost, says that the robotics club is like a family and brings mixes of many different people together. The robotics team goes above and beyond their expectations. They love challenging themselves and have even designed the website http://first1885.org. The robotics club is able to do all of these things because of their sponsors. The club does not get enough credit for all the hard work and all the goals they have not only achieved but surpassed. Battlefield robotics rocks.

I.T. Networking

Andrew McGregor works diligently in his favorite class of the day.

Mrs. Evers teaches the I.T. Networking class here at Battlefield. This year the class is only offered to students in the Information Technology program. However, next year the class will be opening up for all students who wish to take it. This is a weighted class which would boost your GPA, which helped Arjum Shankar who currently has the highest GPA in the senior class with a 4.7. In this class, students learned to set up networks and learn how to connect them. Every student in this class claimed to enjoy it very much and many plan to use it in their future careers.

BOBCAT Café

Friday mornings would not be the same without the Bobcat Cafe. The cafe has been open for four years and is run with the help of Mrs. Klima-DuBois and Mrs. Goodman.

While the cafe serves an obvious purpose of providing sweet treats to the staff and students, it also helps Mrs. Klima-DuBois' and Mrs. Goodman's students with functional math and social skills.

"The skills these students learn and utilize here will assist them with their independent living skills for the rest of their lives," adds Mrs. Goodman.

Every Thursday, Mrs. DuBois' and Mrs. Goodman's students bake treats and sell them Friday morning. For the past two years, the money earned from the baked goods have been donated to West Haven Children's Orphanage, outside of Montego Bay, Jamaica and the ARC of Prince William County. Ms. Dubois says, "We are thankful for the staff at Battlefield to their support of our students and their endeavors."

THE BREAKFAST CLUB

Students arrive at Battlefield with sleep still hanging over them. Waking up for another day of school is a real struggle, but for Breakfast Club members' waking up is a little easier. The Breakfast Club is a group of students who meet every morning in the Chorus room until the first warning bell. This "club" is open to any Chorus student. During a meeting, Breakfast Club members normally finish their coffee or tea and eat the last bites of their breakfast. It is a place to finish some homework from the night before, put the last minute touches on a project, talk about anything, make jokes, laugh, spend time with friends and push your worries aside. Senior Mary Riddle says, "Breakfast Club is a great way to start my day. The stories, jokes, and laughs help make my day when I'm down. Breakfast Club members really know how to start my day off right."

Breakfast Club is always full of great laughs and stories. "Breakfast Club is a union of friends that come together every morning." says Senior Katherine Barnhill. Senior Samantha Perez says, "My favorite part of Breakfast Club is that we are all together. We all laugh. We are there for one another." As this school year comes to a close, so does a wonderful Breakfast Club. For seniors, this was the last year. We had good times but it is now our turn to pass the Breakfast Club down to the old members and new members that will soon come. Breakfast Club is not just a club. It is apart of us and our daily routine. Being in Breakfast Club every morning lightens up the mornings, paves the way to a good day and starts the day off right by having… FUN!!!!

Battlefield Chorus

The Chorus Department here at Battlefield is one big family. Headed up by their fearless leader Ms. Lynn Gregory, students prepare for the performance of a lifetime. There are a myriad of chorus classes available for students to take, ranging from Treble and Varsity choir for beginners, to Donne Coro for intermediate girls, and finally Mens Choir, Bel Canto, and Battlefield Singers for the advanced singers. During class students practice sight reading and performance techniques, all in preparation for their various concerts throughout the school year. Students participate in All County, All District, and All State Virginia Honors choir. These prestigious opportunities allow choir members to learn new skills from guest directors and bond with fellow chorus members. Seniors are permitted to audition for Virginia Honors Choir which is the most difficult honors choir to make. Seniors Paige Hinton (Alto 2) and Andrew Jonas (Bass 2) received the Grand Slam award this year, which means they successfully auditioned and made every honors choir they auditioned for. This award is extremely difficult to obtain because along with talent it requires consistency. Seniors Jenna Brady (Alto 1/Soprano 2) and Sara Firestone (Alto 1) had the opportunity to attend the American Choral Director Association's national conference in Chicago, Illinois. While at this conference they performed with a choir made up of people from all over the United States.

This year the chorus department will be graduating 46 seniors. By participating in choir, they have grown not just as people but as musicians too. At the Spring Concert in May, seniors are spotlighted by announcing all their names, what colleges they will be attending, and any future plans that they have. Then to top it off the entire choir department including alumni join together and sing the song "Here's to Song". This tradition holds great meaning among the chorus family, because it symbolizes all the memories made during the past four years and a passing of the torch from one group of seniors to the next.

Every year after the Spring Concert is through Battlefield Chorus students prepare for a fun, laid back concert. This is known as the Specialty Concert. The specialty concert provides a great opportunity for students to perform solos, duets, or even in small groups. Students must prepare a piece and audition in order to be chosen to sing in the concert. Every class performs at least one number relating to the theme of the concert. Each year the seniors are responsible for choosing the theme. This year the theme was Jazz.

Bel Canto, Mens Choir, and Battlefield Singers had the opportunity to record a CD this year. On the CD the different ensembles recorded lullabies and children's songs. The CD is available for purchase. This was a once in a lifetime experience for many chorus students who found it to be exciting. The chorus department fund-raises multiple times throughout the year for music, supplies, and field trips. This year they sold cookies and candles in the fall and pizza in the spring. They also bought new chorus department t-shirts. These shirts are purple tie dye with the names of all the ensembles on the back and "Battlefield Chorus" on the front.

Throughout this year though, despite the ups and downs the chorus department has remained one BIG family. They are there to support each other and lead Battlefield Chorus into another successful year.

Chorus President
Jenna Brady

The 2010-2011 Chorus President was Jenna Brady. The Chorus President represents the whole Chorus, goes through the what not to do at concerts, help plan events, and helps out Ms. Gregory. To be the Chorus President, a student must be a leader in their ensemble. Students run to be president by making posters and telling fellow Chorus students what they wish to do if elected as Chorus President.

What makes us...

Loved

Community

Battlefield's senior class of 2011 would not be anywhere without the support from the local community and the parents who will do just about anything for us. They wake up early to get us to school on time, stay up late to help us out with our research papers, stand in the cold and rain to watch us make it to state finals and wear their spirit wear proudly on the weekends to support our school and all of their achievements. To the parents and community of Battlefield High School, thank you for all you've done to support us these last four years. We hope we've you proud!

I knew from the moment you were born that you had "personality" - from the time I caught you crawling under the coffee table, to the "I no yike it's," to the reciting of movie scripts, I knew you had a special talent.

You make us laugh, you bring us joy and you are loved so very much. You have many talents and gifts to share with this world.

Go out there and enjoy!

Christopher Robin was sitting outside his door, putting on his big boots. As soon as he saw the big boots, Pooh knew that an adventure was going to happen and he brushed the honey off his nose with the back of his paw and spruced himself up as well as he could so as to look for anything.

It's surreal that you are graduating from high school! Here are the 3 things you really need to know going forward:

1. Find something you are passionate about and be awesome at it.
2. Work hard.
3. Play harder!

Congratulations Buddy!

Dear Connor,
Wow, I can't believe we are here already. Seems like just yesterday when you were learning to talk, and saying "speeed-boat" and "sailllboat". Remember telling people that your mom was in the "moffice"?

You are amazing. You speak very well now, plus you can play the trumpet and walk at the same time!!

Oh, the places you'll go with your smarts and talent!

Love you tons,

Dearest Connor H. Haupt,

Thank you so incredibly much for being the leader of our amazing group. Every minute spent with you, along with the rest of our group, has made this year the best ever! We wish you didn't have to go, because next year will definitely be different without you. Nothing could add up to the good times we've had this year... from Twizzlering to Pile-ups, our beloved names, (and MMM's Attachable) to those sleepovers. Haha... And every Friday that MMM, W and C would come over to your house for hours doing nothing but what us groupies do. Thank you for every single ride you have given us, it adds up to a whole freakin' lot, but you love us so we won't worry about it lol. Nothing we did was ever awkward, no matter what. That's how close we were, and still will be after you "leave" us! (We know you'll be coming back to visit... a lot). Trumpet sectionals will still be held in your pool ;) and hopefully all this will carry on as a tradition. We love you soooo much, our amazing Senior!!! Have fun in college, but visit often, and don't twizzler anyone without our consult ;)

Mary Riddle

Mar,

On May 13, 1993, you entered my life and I became the big sister. Being your big sis has had its ups and downs, but we became best friends. Along the way you and I have had similar interests and different ones as well. You loved Winnie the Pooh while I loved Barney and Lion King but we both loved Disney movies and Land Before Time. I was the more adventures one while you didn't want to be too far from mom and dad. We both loved playing school but I always wanted to be the teacher and you wanted to be the student. We both loved to play with our Barbies and play dress up downstairs. We loved to play Candy Land, Trouble and Chutes and Ladders but we would always fight over who would go first or who got to be which color or which player. We both loved to color. It didn't matter if it was in a coloring book with crayons or on a piece of computer paper with markers; we just loved to color with each other.

One thing that drove you and I both crazy was the matching outfits mom, dad, and Gram got us. We hated dressing alike. You got the bad side of dressing the same because whenever I out grew my cloths, you got my hand me downs. You and I would always make sure that people knew that we may dress alike but we were two different people. Another thing that drove us crazy is when people ask us if we are twins (this still bugs us). You and I would always laugh at this. But even through the hand me downs and the twin questions, we grew up.

Along the way we have had our fights. Some were big while others were small. We have had our share of laughs, tears, jokes, hugs, protecting each other, and always being there for one another. You are my rock. You always help me think through things before I do them. You hold my hand when I am scared. You protect me. You have my back no matter what. I know that you hate it when I mother you but, you are my baby sis. I care so much about you that it may feel like I mother you but you do it too and that is what makes being you big sister a gift. I couldn't think of any other person to be my baby sis and I wouldn't trade you for anything.

We are graduating!!! This is it. We have been waiting for this day for a long time. When we walk across that stage, our high school experience is over. After this we have our whole lives ahead of us. But one thing will never change. You are my baby sis and I love you so much.

I love you. Congrat!!!

From "Pink Bunny" to "Battlefield Bobcat", where did the years go? Who is this wonderful young woman? If you ever met Allison, you know from the minute she says "Hi, I'm Allison", that she is someone special. Allison, from day one you had an agenda of goals & dreams, and in 18 years have accomplished many. You have given us happiness, "Pride" and lots of wonderful memories. You bring joy to us each day through your gift of song, chatting and overzealous personality. God has given you many gifts and each one will be useful throughout your life. You have a way of always thinking positive and a flare for life that most of us can only dream. Thank you for taking us on this journey, which only you could have taken. But this is just the beginning, as you accept your high school diploma and move on to college, preparing for the next chapter in your life. We look forward to being a part of your next journey with all new Allison adventures. You have an open passport for life that only you know the direction to take, "no GPS needed, you go "Chica", follow those dreams…."

"When one door closes, another one opens." Kaitlyn Mary Katherine, this may be the end of this part of your journey, but it is SO not the end of all the amazing things this world is going to see from you! Words are hard to find to express the depth of all the love we have for you and how you've touched not only our lives, but everyone around you. You have long been an inspiration for us and you brighten our world with your beautiful green eyes and your warmth, love and laughter. But none of that takes away from the fiercely loyal, steadfast, true and determined young lady that is also such an innate part of you and your character. We applaud your strength and courage, and admire your generous heart! We want so much for you to stay true to yourself, follow your dreams and be happy. We're sure there's a country song somewhere that says all that and we also know you'd know the words to sing it to us, but for now, know that our hearts are always with you wherever you go, and we look forward to seeing all God has in store for you. We love you to the moon and back!! XOXO
